LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN HOUSE,
Near Chattanooga, Tenn.

THERE is no more pleasant spot for a Summer residence than the summit of Lookout Mountain. The scenery is most beautiful and affords great delight to the lovers of nature.

Looking to the North and East, from the MOUNTAIN HOUSE, a varied landscape is seen. To the left flows the placid Tennessee, winding in and out among the hills, till far away in the distance its waters seem to blend with the clouds. Wooded hills and rich valleys, with waving fields of corn and grain, extend as far as the eye can reach in the horizon, where the faint outlines of the Great Smoky Mountains are seen traced upon the sky.

It has all the telegraph and mail facilities, being but an hour's ride from Chattanooga, and is a First Class Hotel.

Here in the peaceful days before the war, the beauty and intelligence of the South came every Summer to breathe the pure mountain air, and it will soon again be the favorite Summer resort of all who, tired of the dust and heat of crowded cities, desire relaxation of mind and invigoration of body, amid the finest scenery in the country.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

THE NATIONAL BANK SYSTEM.

If men ever reflected during periods of great excitement, or if they ever learned anything by experience or from history, all men who thought at all should have known that banks whose circulation is based, not on specie, but on a deposit of Government bonds with the Government, while they can loan and speculate ad libitum on deposites made with them, must of necessity blow up after a while, as the wild-cat banks of Michigan did, and those in Tennessee and elsewhere whose circulation was secured by deposit of State bonds. The State bonds were better in the market, then, and worth intrinsically more, than U. S. bonds are to-day. And yet some men are so crack-brained as actually to argue that such a currency is better than specie.

The following articles will give our readers some idea of the opinions beginning to be entertained in the North about the wretched system of National Banks:

INCREASING ROTTENNESS OF THE NATIONAL BANKS.

[From the New York Herald.]

In looking over the columns of yesterday's Herald the reader can get an idea of the unsoundness of our infamous national bank system. In one day there is an announcement of the collapse of the Unadilla national bank, an account of the defunct Newton national bank, Massachusetts, disclosures of the Weedsport bank defalcation, and a statement concerning the defalcation in the Pequonnock bank, of Bridgeport. This is a pretty formidable amount of news for one day of national bank failures, swindling and corruption. It is not necessary to go back to the thirty or forty other cases of failure and swindling among the national banks during the short period of a year or two that the system has been in operation. With these the people, unhappily, are too familiar; the batch of news now before us is quite enough to arouse public attention to the rottenness and danger of these institutions.

This bank of Unadilla, in Otsego county, of this state, which it is reported has made a bad failure, with liabilities of two hundred thousand dollars and with very small assets, was a safe, respectable establishment, under its old charter and before it became one of the national banks. Such was the case, too, with several others that have failed. All this goes to show the corrupting influence of the system, the opportunities for frauds and reckless speculations, and how the people have been deceived by the apparent national character and name of these irresponsible institutions. The facilities for fraud and speculation with other people's money are so great that honest men are made dishonest. The whole system is loose, dangerous to the public and corrupting in its influence upon those doing business under it.

There appear to be two causes chiefly for the defalcations and collapse of the national banks. These are excessive speculations, particularly in produce, with a view of forestalling and controlling the markets, and the fast living of those connected with the institutions. In some cases the failures and robberies are caused by the bank officers dabbling or gambling in stocks. The Unadilla bank followed the career of its defunct predecessors. It is the same old story over again.

When we look at the opportunities for swindling we are not surprised at the breaking down of these banks. We shall be surprised if many more do not go the same way. Our special correspondence, published a short time ago on the subject, showed the general unsoundness of the banks in the west. As to the pretended investigations into the affairs of these institutions by government inspectors, as provided by law, they are unreliable. There are many ways of deceiving these government agents, and not a few of the agents themselves are bought up to overlook irregularities. The banks can well afford to pay thousands of dollars to needy and corrupt officials for having their rottenness covered up, and too many of these officials are ready to pocket the bribe.

Under the old system depositors and others doing business with the banks looked closely into their condition and operation; now they cannot do that so well, and they place confidence in them because the government has given them the name of national banks, and because it is erroneously supposed they are sounder on account of having a quasi connection with the government. There was a direct and individual responsibility in the old banks, though they had their defects. Under the present system the government saves itself and the note holders first, as far as it can, when banks fail, but the confiding individual depositors have a poor chance of getting their funds. The government, even, may lose its deposits, and in case of a general smash-up, when in all probability the bonds held as security for the bank currency would become greatly depreciated, the treasury department would have to make up the deficiency out of the public money for redeeming the circulation. Such is the boasted safety of these insecure and rotten institutions.

But this is not all we have against the national banks. They take directly from the public twenty millions a year in profits on their circulation. They are, in fact, invested with a valuable privilege—that of having the benefit of a national currency, which properly belongs to the government for the benefit of the treasury and the people. It is a clear gift of twenty millions a year of public money to a monstrous monopoly; it is taking a large sum from a heavily burdened people and giving it to a few capitalists. Then these banks use this very money, in connection with the other privileges which the power congress has given to them, to forestall and monopolize the markets, and thus make the suffering people pay twenty-five to fifty per cent. more than they should pay for the necessaries of life. Besides, they were instituted by Mr. Chase, Mr. McCulloch and their friends as a powerful political machine, and if they be perpetuated they will in the end not only absorb all the profits of industry, but will control the destinies of the republic. The financial power, monopoly, danger and other evils of the old United States bank, were nothing compared with what we may apprehend from the national banks. In every point of view they are most dangerous and a stupendous fraud upon the country. The creation of them was a great blunder on the part of congress; their continued existence is a disgrace to an enlightened people and government; and unless they be speedily swept away, it will be difficult to destroy them, and they will become the greatest evil that ever afflicted a free country.

[From the New York World.]

The source of this rottenness inheres in the national bank system, which presents temptations too powerful for sanguine men to resist, and affords no adequate safeguard to the stockholders and creditors of the banks. It is a system which stands on no solid or stable standard of value. All experience attests that there can be no sound banking system which does not rest on a legal obligation by the banks to meet their liabilities by payment of the precious metals. Our national banks issue paper which they are required to redeem only in other paper; that other paper being subject to daily fluctuations of value. Now a state of things in which there is no stability in values, in which the currency and business of the country is constantly tossing like a raft upon the waves, infects all men who can command money or credit with the passion for speculation. When values are settled, or pass only through gradual and easily predicted changes, men are not tempted to toss property rapidly from hand to hand in hope of gain or dread of loss. Of this spirit of speculation which has seized the business men of the country, the national banks are the focus as well as the origin. Heavy speculators are in constant need of bank accommodations, and sharp-eyed bank officers have no difficulty in diving into the business of their customers. Bank officers have, therefore, easy means of gaining a prompt acquaintance with every promising speculation, and can become parties to any they please in exchange for pecuniary facilities which such officers can afford. All the chief speculative projects thus passing under the inspection of these bank officers, they are exposed to temptations which ordinary human nature is not strong enough to resist. Doubtless the officers of many of the national banks have grown rich by speculations; sometimes by their sagacity, sometimes by mere luck. Our point is not that none of the national banks are solvent, but that the community have no means of knowing which to trust. The system is evidently a bad one, since a bank should be in all respects the very opposite of a lottery. A banking system should be fitted to inspire and to deserve confidence, by exempting its creditors from hazard. A vast affiliation of organized speculators, who daily risk other men's money in doubtful adventures, does not deserve, and cannot long retain, the confidence of the country.

Even if these institutions confined themselves to their regular business, they are an organized means of fleecing the community. Besides the issue of currency, a considerable part of the regular business of the Unadilla bank has consisted in loans to the farmers, village merchants, and produce dealers of Otsego county. Let us scrutinize the nature of one of these loans. A wealthy farmer, whose credit is so good that any of his neighbors will indorse his note for nothing, has occasion to use a thousand dollars and borrows it at the bank, giving his note thus indorsed. Now what does he get for it? Money? No; he gets merely the notes of the Unadilla bank for the same amount. It is an exchange of the notes of a solvent farmer for the notes of an insolvent institution. But, waiving the undisclosed insolvency, let us proceed with our analysis. It is obvious that the transaction is a mere exchange of credit; the farmer exchanges his credit against that of the bank and pays seven per cent. for the difference, when his own credit is so perfectly good that his responsible neighbor indorses his note for nothing. The bank takes seventy dollars for doing what the indorsing neighbor freely does without compensation; the indorser certifying the credit of the borrower to the bank, and the bank, in turn, certifying it to the community by putting its own notes in the place of his. It is an illusion to suppose that the bank lends him money; it only lends its own credit. If the bank was organized on a specie basis, and paid specie on demand for its notes, the case would be varied, for the next day, or within the next ten days, the notes might come back for payment, and the loan would thus become a loan of money, and not merely of the bank's own credit. When the national banks thus exchange notes with their customers, giving their own notes without interest for the notes of their customers with, they are limited, it is true, to the issue of such notes as they have deposited bonds for in the currency bureau at Washington. But those deposited bonds yields the bank precisely the same income that similar bonds do to private holders. The banks are no more entitled to a bonus from the community for owning this kind of property than are the innumerable other owners of the same kind of bonds. But while other holders of bonds are content to get six per cent., the banks receive thirteen, six from the government and seven from the community, or rather, the whole thirteen from the latter, the government being merely an agent for collecting the six per cent. from the community.

When men perfectly solvent and in good credit pay the banks for a mere exchange of credit, it seems a still greater absurdity if we find out, as we do in the case of the broken banks, that the credit thus advantageously exchanged was really good for nothing. A man exchanges his own solid credit against that of an insolvent bank and pays seven per cent. for the difference! And the enabling of our citizens to do this is the incalculable blessing bestowed upon them by the creation of the national bank system!

It may be said that although the system may ruin the depositors and fleece the customers of the national banks, it nevertheless perfectly secures the bill-holders. But even this is not entirely true, although it must be conceded that by borrowing this feature of the New York banking system, which it supplanted, it gives as good security as holders of the notes of broken banks can ever expect. When there comes a general crash of these unsafe institutions, and scores of them are compelled to wind up at the same time, so many of the deposited bonds will be thrown upon the market that, in a forced sale, their price will sink to a low figure, and speculators will reap a reach harvest at the expense of the bill-holders.

[From the Chicago Times.]

The disastrous failure of the Unadilla national bank is perhaps only a premonitory symptom of the financial crash which every citizen feels, is impending over this country. The crash may not arrive this year, or next; yet that it will come, no one entertains a rational doubt. Our whole financial system is a fabric without a foundation. Here and there, speculation dislodges the loose quicksand that has sustained a column; and the arch, so unsubstantially supported, tumbles down. Other and disconnected arches may not be affected thereby; but another will fail, and another, until, by and by, the whole fabric will come down with a crash.

The rottenness of the whole national bank system is illustrated in the case of the Unadilla bank. The liabilities of that concern are variously stated at from half a million to a million; while its assets, it is said, will be insufficient to pay ten cents on the dollar. This refers to other creditors than those who hold its pictured promises to pay. Its issues (probably) are somewhat better secured, by the bonds which the law requires shall be deposited in the national treasury. These bonds constituted probably about all the capital the bank had. The money to purchase them may have been borrowed, or the funds of depositors may have been used for that purpose; so that, in reality, the bank, when its debts were paid, may have had no capital at all.

That a bank should be able to gain public confidence upon a foundation no more substantial than this may appear surprising to some slow-going old fogies, who still suppose that to carry on the business of banking requires money. The time when it did require money was before Mr. Chase invented our wonderful national banking system. Under that system, all a man needs to establish the biggest kind of a bank is a face to borrow, and an indisposition to pay. The system is rotten to the core, and is as certain to collapse as a bubble is when the shining surface is pricked. It is only a question of time.

MISSOURI CORRESPONDENCE.

GREEN RIDGE, PETTIS CO., MO., }
August 3, 1867. }

Editors Memphis Appeal:

I notice a communication signed "J. B. S." in your issue of July 25th, addressed to the "consideration of all classes." The writer's views differ so widely from my own that I have a few words to say about "simple labor." If a man had but eight acres of land to farm with he might cultivate it all in cotton, by working the whole year, and employing another hand three month, to help gather his crop. Were he to plant the same ground in corn of course he could raise but eight acres, but the same time and labor required for the cultivation of the eight acres of cotton, would have enabled him to make forty acres of corn—quite a difference. But we are not done yet. The corn could be "laid by" after, or with three months' labor, so the farmer would have nine months of his year's time left (except two weeks to gather corn) for the cultivation of other crops and for other farm labor. Again, who raises 500 pounds of cotton to the acre? Did the crop of last year average 300 pounds per acre? Fifty bushels of corn is quite low enough for an acre, for good lands will yield seventy to seventy five bushels. "G. B. S." is the first writer on political economy that I have noticed to argue that a planter, by producing the chief articles of home consumption, would become poorer and "lapse into a state of society as useless as Indians." Without controversy, every bushel of corn purchased in Memphis the past year, for plantation use, has cost the planter $1 50 per bushel at home, when by arranging his crops, raising his own feed corn and his own bread corn, they would only have cost him forty cents per bushel.

Suppose then that a planter saves $1 10 per bushel on all his corn for both man and beast, how nice a sum he will have saved to buy groceries and other traps with. It is but a small planter who needs but forty acres of corn, yet the labor of one man and two animals will produce this crop in three months. Forty acres at fifty bushels to the acre will produce 2000 bushels, which at a saving of $1 10 per bushel, is a clear gain of $2200. Tell us, "J. B. S.," how a planter who saves $2200 in the cultivation of only forty acres will become poor, or get in debt every year, as they now do, from the culture of cotton.

It is an undeniable fact, that the people of the south are poorer to-day than they were at the time of the surrender. The chief cause of this poverty is the cotton culture. A people who sell what they raise at cost, and pay three times the price of cost of production for what they must have for home consumption, will always be poor. Let no one say the planter raises cotton to get cash! Does he not pay cash for his corn? and does he not get cash for every article of produce he brings to market? Does it not cost twenty cents per pound to raise cotton? and after hauling to market, paying government tax, commissions on sale, does not cotton produce an actual loss, and bring the silly planter in debt? True, planters who owe their lands and teams make a living, while renters must inevitably break. What shall we do, then? Is there no remedy for southern people? Yes; a merchant dares to tell planters what to do. Put in one-third of your ground in cotton, the other two-thirds in corn, wheat, oats, potatoes, beans, stock peas, etc. By this disposition of crops, cotton will bring forty cents per pound, the government tax will be the same, and at this price will not swamp all a man's earnings for the year. The price being forty cents, the onerous government tax will not fall so heavily on the producer.

As to trade languishing in Memphis, the conclusion drawn from the premises are buncomb. Did not everybody plant cotton last year, and as a sequence has not trade in Memphis been duller this summer than ever before known? Since, then, the culture of cotton brings poverty and suffering on the south, as a people, let us counsel together, and act as men having heads as well as hands. One word more: The yankees are bound to get all we have, and they won't eat corn, and they cannot transport it and sell it as easily as cotton. J. D.

KNOXVILLE, August 15.—A rencounter occurred yesterday between Congressman Maynard and Col. Williams, but they were parted by their friends.

AGRICULTURAL.

INCARNATE CLOVER—Trifolium Incarnatum.

[From the Southern Cultivator.]

We wish to call the attention of our planters to the foregoing plant. We translate from the French of Le Bon Jardinier, where it is described as "an annual forage whose cultivation, although for a long time limited to some of our southern provinces, has since been extended to many of those further north, and every day it becomes more general in France. Although incarnate clover gives but one cutting, and though its hay may not be so good as that of ordinary clover, yet there are few species of plants which can render greater services to agriculture—especially since an abundant harvest of hay may be obtained without care, without expense, and without disturbing the order of the crops. Moreover, it has the advantage of being very early, and whether as pasturage or cut while green, it offers in spring—almost before any other plant—an invaluable resource for feeding cattle. It is sown in August, or in the beginning of September, in the stubble fields, after having turned them over by a light working, with the plough or cultivator. This manner of working, or at least mellowing the surface of the soil, by repeated harrowings, is necessary for the clean seed, which needs to be lightly covered by the harrow. But when the seed is in the chaff, it is sufficient to scatter it over the stubble without any previous preparation, and afterwards pass the roller over it. It almost always succeeds well thus, especially when it is sown after the removal of the harvest. We see by this with what facility those countries deprived of forage, especially those which observe the triennial rotation of crops, can ameliorate their agricultural situation. Let a farmer, for example, sow in this manner a portion of his oat stubble, say a quarter; if he wishes to cut it green in the first part of May, or if he prefers to cut it dry, from the 15th to the 25th, he has yet ample time to clear the fields on that portion of his land, and to make preparation for another crop. Thus, without deranging the rotation of his crops, he will have obtained from that part of his stubble a good stock of forage between the harvest and the time for plowing it. The incarnate clover offers, also, a precious resource, when it is needed, to replace a crop of clover that has failed. This is done by simply throwing the seed in the chaff on the thin places, or if it is clean seed, by means of sufficient harrowings and rakings.

"Almost any wheat or rye soil, if it is sound, can be made to produce incarnate clover. I have sown a great deal of it, and I have seen it sown with success on very different soils. It fails with me only on limestone soils, and those which heave greatly with the frost. Sometimes our winters prove too severe for this plant, but this accident rarely happens; although it occurred in 1820, yet that has not prevented its cultivation from making immense progress since then. For an acre, sixteen or eighteen pounds of cleaned seed are required. A bushel of seed in the chaff contains generally a little over four pounds of clean seed.

"I recommend the cultivators of the incarnate clover to try plowing it under when first in flower. I have reason to believe that under this treatment it has a merit, as green manure, that will add still more to its utility."

We republish elsewhere also an article translated from M. de Dombasle. We purchased a few pounds of seed of this clover last season, from our friends J. M. Thorburn & Co., New York city, who advertise it in this number. We sowed it last August, on soil of medium quality. It came up in autumn, grew all winter—was fine pasturage the latter part of February, March and April, was fit to cut as early as lucern, and the yield was judged by Mr. Howard and ourself at about two tons per acre—which estimate was fully borne out in the part cut. Mr. Howard informs us that what he described as incarnate clover, in the article in the May number, is not this, but an inferior and different species.

The yellow clover, sown at the same time, is liked by cattle, but though horses will eat it when young, they will leave it to feed on crimson clover, which they like either green or cured into hay. We were so well pleased with this plant that we requested the Messrs. Thorburn to import an extra quantity of the seed, and advertise the fact, for there are very few soils in the south where this plant will not succeed as well as in southern France and Italy, where it is so largely cultivated. All forage crops require the soil to be enriched, unless on first rate land. Gypsum is as useful to this crop as to the common red clover.

Plenty of forage can be made with this plant as cheaply as northern hay can be bought at the place where it is grown. After the seed is once obtained, it seeds abundantly, and the seed in the chaff are easily saved.

The patent office sent out this seed largely years ago in the spring. Of course it proved as dead a failure as winter wheat would, sown at the same season.

We urge the culture of this and such other forage plants as we know will succeed; for, without the combination of stock-husbandry with tillage, the south will presently become a desert. Guano islands cannot long be depended on to supply fertility; and the most profitable use of commercial manures is to increase the quantity of forage and farm-yard manures.

BARLEY—An Experiment Worth Trying.—During the winter of 1865, I cleared a very rich piece of upland measuring five acres, and in April, 1866, planted it in corn. In October, 1866, I gathered about forty bushels of inferior corn from it, owing to the unprecedented drought of last summer. For three nights all the stock I had—horses, mules and sheep—were turned upon it to denude it of its pea vines, etc. Immediately afterwards I broke it up thoroughly, and sowed eight bushels of barley (bought in Baltimore) upon the five acres. A perfect stand was obtained, but in February, 1867, at least one-third of the barley died out, either from cold weather, or too loose sand, or both.

As soon as the heads of the barley were completely formed, I began cutting it for my plow stock. The bundles were run through a Daniel's straw cutter, and fed to the stock at about six bundles each, daily. In a few days my horses began to bleed at the mouth, and an examination revealed the fact that the barley beard had inflamed their gums, and hence the bleeding. My five mules fattened daily, though worked hard and constantly. As the weather continued wet and grass grew, therefore, the faster, I could not spare the hand to cut up the barley, but simply threw it in the racks in bundles, two bundles at a feed three times a day, reaping each day what would feed the next. In a few days the bleeding at the mouth ceased. My horses and mules both fattened, and as regularly their allowance of corn was diminished. Yesterday the last bundle of barley was fed off the patch, and for two weeks it has been perfectly ripe, though the stock ate stalk, head, beard and all to the last. For forty days this barley was fed to eight plow animals, that received in the meantime not a blade of fodder; and though their daily rations were at first eight quarts of corn each, for the last two weeks they have received but five quarts; and to-day they are in better order than they were when we began to feed the barley, and have not rested a day, except Sundays; for when not plowing they were hauling rails, wood, bricks, etc. I was advised by my neighbors that ripe barley (the beard) would choke, kill, etc., but nothing of the kind has occurred. Now what have these five acres sown in barley with one-third killed in February, been worth to me? They have saved me as follows:

4000 lbs fodder at $2 per cwt.	$80
10 bushels corn at $1 75 per bush.	17 50
	$97 50

To-day the stubble has been plowed in, and the land planted in corn, which will yield me (D. V.) one hundred bushels in October. Who that has a half acre of spare land to the horse will not prepare it thoroughly this fall, and sow it in barley for his plow animals next spring? If properly prepared, no investment can declare a handsomer dividend than land sowed in barley for spring feeding.

Yours truly, JOHN.

We presume the barley sown was the spring barley, which is the kind grown north—and if so, the winter killing and poor stand is accounted for. Many planters in this section of the state have been feeding on the northern hay at three and a half cents a pound. The crop would have been worth $187 50 instead of $97 50. Incarnate clover sown in August would have been still more profitable.—Ed. So. Cult.

Noon Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—Attorney-General Stanberry, now at Capon Springs, is in bad health, and will not return to this city for two or three weeks.

Orders are issued at the postoffice department every day for reopening postoffices in the southern states, and, in some instances, new offices have been established. To meet the increasing demand for postal service in that section, the postmaster-general has appointed John H. Kinkead postmaster at Sitka, Russian America.

A New York special says it has been ascertained from an authoritative source that it is untrue that the president contemplates removing all the district commanders. The reasons for removing Sheridan do not apply to other commanders.

Gen. Steadman's name continues to be mentioned in connection with the vacancy in the war department, but the president has made no tender of it to any one. It is quite probable that Gen. Grant will continue to act until the meeting of congress.

The president contemplates making a sea voyage as soon as public duties will permit.

The Washington Intelligencer yesterday contained a long card from J. H. Bradley, detailing the occurrences between himself and Judge Fisher, and leaving the settlement of the affair in the hands of his legal friends.

The Times prints a series of documents, going to show the complicity of Ben. Wood, A. J. Rogers, William Radford, A. E. Niblack, C. A. Eldridge and F. C. Liblord with Conover, in efforts with the latter to obtain a pardon from the president, also affidavits of Nathan Auser and Jas. E. Matterson, detailing an interview with Roger A. Pryor, Dick Taylor, Ben. Wood and Conover relative to manufacturing evidence against Judge Holt and others. The affidavits of John Martin and Francis McFall testify to similar intention of the plan of affairs, including the release of Jefferson Davis on bail or parole, and affidavits certified to before a notary public in New York city, under date of March 27th and May 19th.

NEW YORK, August 15.—Mexican advices say that Juarez has ordered Santa Anna to be tried according to the law of January 15, 1866, whereby Maximilian died, and under which the identification of prisoners is sufficient evidence for conviction. Marquez had been captured at Hacienda Caredona, and was en route to the capitol. Among the list of condemned officers is Salm Salm, whose wife is still in the country, trying hard to save his life. It is again reported that she is a niece of President Johnson.

Congress is to assemble in November, and the presidential election to take place in December.

Santa Anna's son, in a protest to Secretary Seward against the seizure of his father at Sisal, intimates that the Washington government must be in complicity with the liberals who arrested him.

NASHVILLE, August 15.—An exciting canvass for directors of the Nashville and Chattanooga railroad engrossed the entire day yesterday, and was concluded this morning. The Burns ticket was elected by twenty-five hundred majority. The vote of the Charleston and Georgia railroad was excluded. This result continues the road under its present management.

SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
In Albemarle County, Va.

H. N. E. WOOD	Principal.
A. J. WOOD	Associate Principal.

SECOND SESSION 1867-8.

THIS School is located one and a-half miles from Greenwood Depot on the Virginia Central Railroad and fifteen miles west of Charlottesville and the University of Virginia. The location is well known as Dr. Gessner Harrison, Rev. Wm. Dinwiddie, and Prof Edward B. Smith formerly conducted schools at this place. Previously it was a popular summer resort, conducted by John S. Cocke, Esq. Being situated in one of the most beautiful portions of Albemarle county, in the midst of a refined and intelligent community, remote from places of dissipation, and convenient to Churches and Sabbath Schools of the leading denominations, it possesses rare advantages for a Boys' School.

The course of study is designed to be thorough and comprehensive in Ancient and Modern Languages, Mathematics and the English Branches, and also to embrace the elements of Natural and Moral science and History.

The Principal was educated at the University of Virginia, and has had an experience of nearly ten years in teaching in schools of high grade in this State, including Dr. Gessner Harrison's school, Bloomfield Academy, Lynchburg Female Seminary, and Hon. R. M. T. Hunter's private school.

The Associate Principal was also educated at the University of Virginia, and has had an experience of eight years in teaching in the Southern States—formerly in Edgeworth Female Seminary, North Carolina, more recently in Sherman, Texas.

The following recommendation of our school by Professors of the University of Virginia, is respectfully submitted:

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, April 7, 1867.

In view of our personal acquaintance with Messrs. H. N. B. and A. J. Wood, we do not hesitate cordially to recommend their school to the confidence and patronage of the public.

TO THE READERS OF THE APPEAL.

The constantly enlarging circulation of the APPEAL, and the generous support given to both the Daily and Weekly issues by city and country, assure the proprietors of the general approval by the public of its course since it came into their hands.

Its Past is the pledge it offers for the Future. It will continue to endeavour, in accordance with the motto which it has adopted, to say those things only that are true and honest. It has but a single Client, the People of the South, and it will endeavor to advise its readers wisely. In that it may often fail; but its opinions shall always be honest and conscientious, at least.

Those to whom its conduct is entrusted will continue to endeavor to make the APPEAL acceptable to its readers, and desirable as a medium for advertising. The Masonic column will hereafter appear every Saturday, and on every Sunday reading appropriate to that day: and the proprietors hope, by close attention to the affairs of the papers and office, to still entitle it to the support and confidence of the people, on which alone it depends.

MASONIC AFFILIATION WITH NEGROES.

We find published the following letter from GARIBALDI to EUGENE CHASSAIGNAC of New Orleans, who is the Presiding officer of a body styling itself the Supreme Council of the 33d degree for the Sovereign and independent State of Louisiana:

MONSUMMANO, June 21, 1867.

Beloved Brother: I associate fully, indeed, with your manly resolutions of admitting all colored brethren into your lodges.

"He is the Lord of the cedars of Lebanon, as well as of the hyssop, which grows best in the deepest recesses of the valleys."—Massillon.

The G. A. of the U. dispenses light and air to the lion and the lamb, and holds to each an equal measure; and he fecundates the seed for the ant as well as for man.

Your great republic—the palladium of the world's freedom—ought not now to falter in the path of the emancipation of all races, sanctified as it has been by so much blood and heroism.

An affectionate and triple embrace to the brethren from,

Yours for life, G. GARIBALDI,
Thirty-Third.

The body in New Orleans was established some years ago by JAMES FOULHOUZE. It has a few Lodges and other bodies under it, all of which the Grand Lodge of Louisiana and the Supreme Council at Charleston denounce as illegal and spurious. The persons who are of its obedience are not recognized as Masons by any regular body in the United States. Mr. FOULHOUZE was expelled by the Grand Orient of France, (which made him a 33d) for establishing a body pretending to be a Supreme Council, within the jurisdiction of that of Charleston.

We do not know that GARIBALDI ever regularly received the 33d degree. A patent was sent him by one HENRY J. SEYMOUR, who is the head in this country of the Rite of Memphis, which gave ninety or more degrees by simply declaring a man invested with them, or by sending him a patent for them. Now, we believe, they have reduced their degrees to thirty-three. SEYMOUR was expelled from the Supreme Council of the 33d degree in New York, in 1865, for propagating the Rite of Memphis, a Rite which the Grand Orient of France has refused to recognize, except in the first three degrees.

It will be wise for Radical newspapers to let the subject of colored Masons alone. The Lodges and Grand Lodges in the Northern States have always refused to recognise negroes as Masons, and have always denied that the negro Lodges had any legitimacy. Whenever it is attempted to introduce negroes into Masonic Lodges, a hundred thousand Masons in the North, who are Radicals, will oppose it to the bitter end.

No man can be made a Mason in America, lawfully, who is not free-born. This of itself excludes most of the negroes. The attempt to lug politics into Masonry, and make freedmen into Masons, will prove pretty disastrous, when it is attempted. The body in New Orleans has done it, because it had nearly died out.

Negro Royal Arch Masons and Templars are utterly illegitimate and spurious. None of them ever received the degree legally, nor was any body of them ever established by competent authority.

There is a Grand Consistary of the 32d degree in Louisiana, for the State, which is the governing body of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite in the State, and of which SAMUEL H. TODD is Commander-in-Chief. This is under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Council of the 33d degree, for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, whose See is at Charleston, South Carolina. There are no legitimate Scottish Rite Masons in the United States, except those of the obedience of that Supreme Council, and the one for the Northern Jurisdiction of the United States at Boston; and neither these nor the bodies under them recognize the Foulhouze and Chassaignac people or those of the Rite of Memphis: nor are negro Masons recognized any where in the country by any regular Masons. The Radical journals are meddling with matters they know nothing about.

RETURNING REASON.

In August 1862, in Jo Daviess county, Illinois, one MADISON T. JOHNSON was suspected of being disloyal, and a member of the secret Order of the "Knights of the Golden Circle." Under an order issued in the name of the President of the United States, the Marshal of the Northern District of Illinois arrested him, and he and his deputies carried him to Chicago, whence he was taken to New York, then imprisoned in Fort Lafayette for two months, then in Fort Delaware for three, and then set at liberty, with as little ceremony or apology as if he had been a runaway negro, and without trial or examination, or any offence being charged against him. He sued the Marshal and his Deputies in trespass, for false imprisonment. They justified under the Lettre de Cachet of the President; [illegible] the Court below decided that the defence was good. JOHNSON then carried the case into the Supreme Court of Illinois, and, five years after the outrage was committed, obtained a decision reversing that of the Court below. Mr. Justice LAWRENCE, in politics a Radical, and in President LINCOLN's life his warm friend, delivered the opinion of the Court. We make the following extracts from the decision:

That the president of the United States has the rightful power in time of peace, to cause a marshal to arrest a citizen of Illinois, without process, and without any charge of crime legally preferred, and convey him to a distant state, and there imprison him without judicial writ or warrant in a military fortress, is a proposition which no one would have the hardihood to assert. That such power in a season of peace, cannot be safely intrusted to any government, by a people claiming to be free, is a political truism lying beyond the domain of argument.

The right of the citizen to his personal liberty, except when restrained of it upon a charge of crime, and for the purpose of judicial investigation, or under the command of the law pronounced through a judicial tribunal, is one of those elementary facts which lie at the foundation of our political structure.

* * *

It cannot be denied that, when this plaintiff was arrested, without writ or warrant, and conveyed by the marshal to the city of New York, and then delivered not into the custody of the law, upon a criminal charge, but to a military officer, to be imprisoned in a military fortress, without judicial investigation, and without even the charge of crime, the letter and the spirit of all the foregoing provisions of the constitution were plainly violated, unless, under the state of facts set forth in the pleas, their operation, as to the plaintiff, has been temporarily suspended.

*

Beyond the enforcement of martial law on the actual field of military operations, which is the result of an overmastering necessity, and its establishment in districts, though remote from the seat of war, are yet so far in sympathy with the public enemy as to obstruct the administration of the laws through the civil tribunals, and render a resort to military power a necessity, as the only means of restraining disloyalty from overt acts, and preserving the authority of the government, we know of no ground upon which its exercise can be defended. It is the result of an absolute necessity during a period of war, and should terminate with the necessity itself. The doctrine that a state of war itself suspends, at once, and everywhere, the constitutional guarantees for liberty and property, finds no support in the constitution, and is inconsistent with every principle of civil liberty and free government.

In the face of all these facts, how is it possible to hold that the plaintiff was legally subjected to the administration of martial law?

It is undeniable, if the government had the right to arrest him without a warrant, and imprison him without a trial, or charge of any criminal offense, it had an equal right to send his cause before a court martial or military commission.

The right to do the one, necessarily implies the right to do the other, because both rest on the same theory of power to be exercised by the government in time of war. If it was lawful to arrest and imprison the plaintiff without any form of judicial investigation, it would certainly have been not less lawful to do the same thing upon the finding and sentence of a military tribunal. It can hardly be said the laws of war could be applied to the plaintiff for the purpose of punishment but not for the purpose of trial.

That he could not have been legally brought to trial before a military tribunal has been recently decided by the supreme court of the United States in the case ex parte Milligan, already quoted. On the questions whether congress has the constitutional power to establish military tribunals, in time of war, in districts where the war is not being actually waged, the court was divided.

But on all those principles which govern the case now under consideration, there was entire unanimity. The majority held the imprisonment of Milligan illegal, and discharged him, on the ground that in a state where no war prevailed and the jurisdiction of the civil courts was undisturbed, neither congress nor president, nor both united, could constitutionally create a military tribunal, or enforce martial law.

*

It is a fearful power that is claimed for the government by the counsel for the appellee, and one which no free government ought to possess. Even in England, in the latter part of the last century, when secret political societies were formed, hostile to the government, and in league with the French revolutionists, or supposed to be so, although the country was at war with France, yet, while the high tory administration of Mr. Pitt arrested, prosecuted and punished with a pitiless rigor, it acted only through the ordinary agencies of the civil courts, and made no use of the military arm under the pretense that the offending persons were belligerents or public enemies. If this plaintiff was guilty of the charge made in the pleas, he merited arrest and severe punishment, but he should have been punished in conformity to law.

It should be remembered that the question before us is one of power, simply, on the part of the executive, and not of deserving on the part of the plaintiff.

If the president could rightfully arrest him by military force, and consign him, without process or trial, to a fortress in the harbor of New York, he could do the same thing to any other person in the state of Illinois, however innocent of crime. This plaintiff may have been disloyal, and seeking to aid the rebels, but the most loyal citizen might have been seized and sent away in the same summary manner.

As no charge is made, no judicial investigation had, it is left entirely to the caprice of the government to determine what persons shall be arrested. The power to thus arrest being once conceded, every man in the state, from the governor down to the humblest citizen, would hold his liberty at the mercy of the military officer in command. For it is to be borne in mind that this power is not one to be exercised only by the highest officers of the government, in whose hands it might be exercised with moderation. It is claimed for the president as commander-in-chief, and as incident to a state of war, or martial law, and may be exercised by the military officer in command in any district, without reference to his rank, as rightfully as by the president himself. He might be afraid to exercise it without orders from his superior, but if it exists at all it belongs to him as well as the president.

This theory then, pushed to its logical results, is this: That whenever the government is engaged in suppressing a rebellion in Florida, or waging war on the frontiers of Maine, martial law may be enforced in Illinois, where there is neither war nor public enemy, and where the courts are daily administering justice; and every citizen of the state shall hold his liberty and property at the whim and discretion of the military officer in command.

The proposition thus stated in its nakedness may well startle us when we remember how liable we are to be involved in war. But it is not true, for it is utterly at variance with the most cherished objects of the constitution, and its most solemn prohibitions.

We are not unconscious of the fact that the decision which we are obliged to make in the present cause, on the facts appearing in the record, attributes to our late lamented president the unlawful exercise of power, and therefore implies a certain degree of censure. None can have a higher appreciation than the members of the court of the unselfish patriotism, and purity of motive, of that great magistrate. If he exercised a power not given by the constitution, he undoubtedly did so under a full conviction of its necessity in the extraordinary emergencies wherein he was called to act. But neither our honor for his memory, nor our confidence in his honesty, can be permitted to sway our judgment here. The questions presented by this record must be decided by us as questions of abstract law. If this plaintiff has been unlawfully restrained of his liberty, he has the right to call upon us so to declare, without fear, favor or affection.

Our attention has been called by the counsel for the defendants, to two acts of congress, the first of which, passed March 3, 1863, provides in its four sections: "That any order of the president, or under his authority, made at any time during the existence of the present rebellion, shall be a defense in all courts, to any action or prosecution, civil or criminal, pending or to be commenced, for any search, seizure, arrest or imprisonment made, done or committed, or acts omitted to be done, under and by virtue of such order, or under color of any law of congress; and such defense may be made by special plea, or under the general issue."

The other act, passed May 11, 1866, provides in its first section that any arrest or imprisonment, during the rebellion, by virtue of the order of the president, secretary of war, or any military officer in command in the place when such arrest had been made, or imprisonment had been made, should come within the purview of the first act for all purposes of defense.

That it is the duty of congress to indemnify, out of the public treasury any person who has been compelled to pay damages for an act performed by him, in good faith, under the command of the president, for the purpose of suppressing the rebellion, is a proposition which few persons would deny. But the denial by congress through a retrospective law of all address to a person whose property or liberty was illegally taken, under a military order, is a mode of discharging obligations, which, however convenient, is not reconcilable with the principle of the constitution. The constitution confides to congress only legislative power, and that to be exercised only for specific purposes. When, therefore, it undertook to determine, in 1863 and 1866, that no injury to person or property, committed prior to that time, gave to the injured party a vested right of action, if committed under a military order, it assumed a judicial function which it is not authorized to perform. Whether this plaintiff was illegally arrested and imprisoned in 1862, depends solely upon the acts done and the law in force at that time, and these are facts to be determined by judicial investigation, and facts which no act of congress can change. If his personal liberty, or his property, was illegally taken from him, there at once occurred to him a right to redress in the courts, which no subsequent acts of congress can take away. The rights of persons or property are equally secured by the constitutional provision, borrowed from magna charta, that no person shall be deprived of them without due process of law. That congress has no right, by its own acts, to divest these rights is universally conceded, and we are unable to perceive the difference in principle, between an act seeking to divest them directly and one providing that, when they have been divested by unlawful violence, no remedy shall be had against the wrong doer. Suppose congress should pass a law that no action should be against United States marshals for any illegal acts theretofore done by them under color of their office, and a marshal should be sued for having, before the passage of the law illegally taken the goods of one person under an execution against another. Can it be supposed such an act would be a defense to a suit brought for the trespass? And there is no difference, in principle, between such legislation and that now under consideration.

In 1862, on the facts disclosed by this record, one citizen of Illinois committed a trespass upon the rights of another, for which the laws of Illinois then gave, and now give, a right of action. Since that time congress has said that the action shall not be maintained. We must respectfully ask, whence comes the power to interfere with the remedies furnished by the state laws, through the state tribunals, for the injury of one citizen by another? There is really nothing to be said in support of this legislation. With all our respect for congress, we must hold these acts beyond its constitutional authority. If they are not so, its power over persons and property is limited only by its own discretion, and constitutional government is merely a theory.

THE METROPOLITAN POLICE SYSTEM —IT DOES NOT WORK WELL IN NEW YORK.

The New York World says:

The Times, which deprecated the World's exposures of the mismanagement and inefficiency of the metropolitan police system, is gradually, it seems, coming over to the same views we have expressed. Bearing in mind that the police commissioners are pronounced in their defense of the present detective force, the Times thinks "one cannot but be struck by the following statement in the last annual report of the commissioners," and says:

"The losses brought to the attention of the whole police force amounted in the year to $3,285,913, of which $1,235,403 was recovered, the total loss being $2,050,510. Of these gross amounts there was properly apportioned to the detective bureau, a first loss of $2,080,736, of which they recovered but $315,236, leaving a final loss of $1,765,500. In the face of a thousand unpleasant rumors, in the presence of an undeniable quarrel between the two sets of detectives in the city, it seems to us that these figures are very suggestive. First among the necessary equipments of a metropolitan force is very properly placed a good detective squad. This in other days we have had, and in many individual cases great praise may yet be given with justice, but owing to the many investigations, the frequent complaints and the official record above quoted, it may well be queried whether a wholesale reorganization of the branch of the service would not be well for the force itself, and give greater satisfaction to the general public."

It would not be very wide of the truth to say that the same query might be with as good reason put in regard to the Police of Memphis. A few days ago a gentleman who had his coat and watch stolen from his room, lodged his complaint at the police station on Causey street, and was coolly told that he would never see his watch again. That was the end of it. What is the use of hunting up a thief, here? The night before, three or four persons endeavored to force an entrance into the house on Main, at the corner of Pontotoc. The inmates were on the alert, luckily, five or six pistol-shots were fired, and the burglars retreated. Nobody thought it worth mentioning in the papers. Whenever the Police latch a burglar, we'll publish the fact. Do the police ever arrest any negroes for carrying concealed weapons?

We should like to see a statement of "the losses brought to the attention of the whole police force" of Memphis, since its organization; of the amount recovered, and the amount utterly lost. Will the 'Chief' have it furnished to the Press?

THE LEECHES AND CORMORANTS.

There are many Confederates who will recognize familiar acquaintances in the speculators, harpies and vultures whose portraits, as a class, are sketched in the following letter from a correspondent of the New York Herald. They infested the Confederacy and sucked out its life-blood, and now, excellently loyal, and intensely radical, they are a thousand times more infamous than ever. Our Civil War showed both sides of human nature, and in these every thing despicable and detestable;

RICHMOND, Va., July 24, 1867.—As the time for the republican convention draws near considerable activity begins to manifest itself throughout the state among the so-called conservatives, and meetings are already announced in a number of counties with a view of adopting measures to form an alliance with the projectors of the convention. In Albemarle, Charlotte, Buckingham, Amelia, Louisa and other counties, a decided endorsement of the radical platform has already been expressed with an effect of inducing many more to follow their example. In some of these places, it is true, other meetings have been called and counter resolutions adopted denouncing a union on any terms with the radical party, and insinuating that the promoters of such a movement are little else than hypocrites and time-servers. Be that as it may, the movement is assuming larger and more significant proportions every day, and attracting to its aid prominent and reputable citizens. Those who inveigh against it cannot divest themselves of the impression that the advocates of coalition—of the "unnatural wedlock," as the Times was wont to designate the alliance of democrat with radical—are those same men who formed a class of stay-at-home secesh during the war, and who coined fortunes out of the miseries of the Confederacy. This impression, I must admit, has some show of color in it. I have the names of over thirty men in this city, advocates of the new ideas, who, if all I am told about them be true, were the most rapacious set of cormorants, the most remorseless Shylocks that ever afflicted the community of a beleaguered city. Confederate soldiers relate, with an unmistakable acrimony of expression, how, when the report reached Richmond that Averill had destroyed the salt works that furnished Lee's army with its simple saline luxury, these speculators bought up every pound of salt in the city and raised its price two hundred per cent. Other stories are told of the practices which prevailed among the commercial class during the war—how poor Confederate widows were turned heartlessly away if unable to furnish, for some paltry purchase, every cent of the sum demanded, and of the crippled soldiers who asked for bread and received a stone. In fact, if all that is related of the rapacity and corruption which characterized not alone the community of speculators, but high and low officials of the Confederate government, be but one-tenth true, well might the people of Richmond exclaim, "The Lord deliver us." If the secret history of the commissariat department were only written, it would reveal an amazing amount of the grossest fraud and baseness. Millions of pounds of bacon, biscuit and other military stores filled the commissary buildings while the piercing cries came up from Lee's famishing army for food. This may appear incredible; but the speculators and their official friends could explain why it was so.

The Confederate soldiers are aware of all this. They believe none but men of the class mentioned are showing any anxiety to join the radical ranks and forestall possible confiscation. Some men, they say, are not confined to the city of Richmond. They can be found in every county among those ex-slave-holders who at one time so generously passed a law exempting from military duty any one who owned fifteen slaves. The men who formed the rank and file of the Confederate army are now poor. It is true they still call northern men yankees, not, certainly, as a term of opprobrium; but, take them in the bulk, from the Potomac to Texas, and they form as truly loyal a body to the United States government as any equal number of radicals.

IN MEMORIAM.

WILLIAM D. LEGARS is no more. He was a victim of that lingering and almost fatal disease, typhoid fever. He was taken sick on the 7th of July, and, after a painful sickness of four weeks, died on Sunday evening, the 4th of August. He leaves a devoted wife and a large circle of friends to mourn his death. The subject of this memoir was born in —— —— county, Ala., but was raised in Tipton county, Tenn., to which place his father moved soon after his birth. When he arrived at the age of manhood, he obtained a situation on board a steamer on the Mississippi river, and by superior energy and an active mind, he soon obtained the position as engineer, in which he continued until his means were sufficient to enable him to purchase a tract of land, when he moved to Mississippi county, Ark., where he soon obtained the reputation of being the best cotton raiser in the county. For the last four years of his life he had been managing Dr. F. G. McGavock's Shawnee Village plantation, and, under his excellent management, this place had become the model of cotton plantations. The cotton culture was always a study with him, and by his close and energetic attention to business he never missed raising a large crop. He was a pious Christian gentleman. He was raised a member of the Episcopal Church, but had been for several years previous to his death an active member of the Methodist church, and died in the full assurance of a better Home beyond the grave.

"May his soul rest in peace."

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGIMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention, as well as an invaluable remedy in Scurvy, Scald Head, Eruptions of the Skin and Piles. Dandruff is removed from the head, the Teeth whitened and cleansed, Plate and Jewelry cleaned, Stains effectually removed from Carpets, Furniture, Clothes, Paint, Varnish or Marble, with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known Soap which will wash Flannels with the ease of cotton or linen without fulling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin or the most delicate fabrics. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties and which is so innocuous and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has become a necessity in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the South, and eventually will extend over the Yankee States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. P. McGimsey, Memphis, Tenn., and sold at the following places in the city at wholesale and retail; Page & Co.'s, Dean's, Taylor's Drug Store, Poplar street; King's, corner of Third and Adams; Oliver & Co.'s DeSoto Block, Madison street; will soon be found at any respectable family grocery or drug store. The proprietor is determined that its manufacture shall keep pace with the rapidly extending demand for its use. au16

To Builders.

THE undesigned proposes to divide fifty or one hundred acres of his land into small lots—say, of five acres each—and to give the alternate lots in payment for improvements constructed upon the others.

The land is situated three miles east of the city of Memphis, at the terminus of Union avenue, fronting on the extension of that avenue, on Trezevant avenue, and on the Poplar street road. It is covered in part with a beautiful growth of forest trees, and is unsurpassed by any other suburban property in point of health, building sites, and the character of the surrounding neighbors.

In undertaking this enterprize builders can, in addition to their usual profits, calculate with certainty on the enhancement of the value of the lots paid them, by the improvement of those adjoining.

SECOND DRAWING

—OF THE—

Southern Asylum

LAND COMPANY,

TO TAKE PLACE AT

HERNANDO, MISS.,

AUGUST, 1867.

THE First Drawing, which took place at Hernando, Miss., on the 15th inst., was attended with unusual success, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. $17,000 worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and, as will be seen from the subjoined certificate of the Managers, the affair was conducted, to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify that the above report of the First Drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by a spirit of fairness and justness unsurpassed by any Drawing of which we have any knowledge. The Managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.
Signed: J. B. MORGAN,
ROBERT TEMPLE,
V. A. MERRIWETHER,
W. W. CAMPTON,
M. MAGEVENY,

WANTED—THE PATENT AURORA OIL.

We want men everywhere to study their OWN INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is NO MORE explosive than a tallow candle. Any Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney—it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bills while here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold worth.

TO THE PATRONS OF THE APPEAL.
You are requested not to pay any carriers without a certificate from me, and to report at the counting desk any irregularity in carriers.
ED. J. MANSFORD.

PERSONAL.—Col. Will. L. Clark, of the firm of J. S. Lethgrow & Co., of Louisville, is in the city, stopping at the Overton. Will. is as fascinating as of old, and has the same eye to business. He departs to-morrow for home. Would that his stay with us were of longer duration.

RECOVERED.—The well known race mare Mollie, which was stolen from D. Gimson, near the trotting park, on Wednesday night last, was recovered yesterday by officer Selkirk on the Hernando road, about sixteen miles from the city. The thieves escaped.

DRUGS FOR THE POOR.—In addition to the dispensary established by Dr. Early, at 148 Poplar street, for the First district, Dr. Thornton has opened one at 125 Beal street. Dr. Rogers may be found at his office, No. 287 Main street, and will give prescriptions to those applying from the central portion of the city, which will be properly filled.

THE EVENT OF THE MONTH.—There is a mode of escaping calamities that crush us. Five dollars is no enormous sum, and he who uses it discreetly will win twenty thousand dollars worth of property in the next drawing of the Southern Asylum. There are no small prizes, as before, though one, Grand Falls, in the city scheme, has been sold privately.

SELLING ANOTHER MAN'S HORSE.—A man named John Riley hired a horse yesterday, at the well-known and popular livery stable of Capt. Jessee Forrest, on Adams street. He took the animal to South Memphis and disposed of him to a negro called Dr. Toles. Complaint having been made to Sheriff Winters the guilty party was arrested and lodged in jail.

PROMISED TO QUIT.—Four females of the fraternity known as polite and attentive lady waiters, were up before the police court yesterday morning charged with being disorderly. The commissioner thought it useless to fine them, and let them go, on a promise to leave the city. The quicker the city is rid of their presence and the establishments that harbor them and furnish employment for that class of persons, the better.

HOUSE ROBBERIES.—The premises of Mr. P. R. Roberts, No. 200 Madison street, was entered yesterday morning and a quantity of gents' clothing, as well as a pair of new shoes and fifty dollars in currency, stolen. The thieves gained entrance by means of a back window. The thieves got off with the goods and money. The loser offers ten dollars reward for the apprehension of the thieves and the recovery of the goods.

THE PIC-NIC YESTERDAY.—Owing to the illness of our local reporter he was not present at the pic-nic given by the congregation of St. Mary's church, in Chelsea, yesterday, but we learn from a friend that it was a brilliant success, a very large number being present, and all enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. The various games and amusements were entered into with a zest worthy of the occasion, and all present departed for their homes well pleased with their day's amusement.

JEWELRY THIEF.—Complaint was made at the police headquarters yesterday that the apartment of Mrs. E. A. Morley, in the house of Mrs. Harbour, on Adams street, opposite St. Peters' church, was entered yesterday morning, and a gold bracelet, valued at fifty dollars, stolen. Some servants connected with the house are suspected of committing the unlawful deed, and the police are on the lookout for them. It is to be hoped the guilty parties may be speedily arrested.

NEW CORN.—Mr. J. C. Jacobi, an enterprising farmer and gardener, two miles from the city, on the Horn Lake road, brought in to-day a wagon load of this year's corn, thoroughly matured and hardened, of which he left specimen ears at this office. The corn is of a variety known as the King Phillip or Pennsylvania Yellow, and ripens in three months from the time of planting. The grains are large, well filled, and beautifully smooth and glossy. Mr. Jacobi considers it a very valuable variety, and will save a quantity so as to furnish seed to those desiring to obtain the same.

SPOON THIEVES.—Some individuals, who doubtless desired to imitate the inglorious Butler in the spoon business, entered the house of Mr. John Oakey, No. 72 Second street, at an early hour yesterday morning, and succeeded in stealing a lot of silver spoons valued at $70, one and a half dozen of silver forks and ivory handled knives, some sardines, two boxes of cigars, a bundle of uncurrent money—the whole lot valued at $300. The thieves made good their escape, and were cunning enough to elude the vigilance of the police up to a late hour last night.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL.—About two o'clock yesterday the turnkey at the Adams street prison discovered that an old offender, named Griswold, was making an attempt to escape from prison. He was in for "shooting, with intent to kill," and was sentenced to one hundred and three days imprisonment. Only a few days since he sawed the hasp binding the door of the cell in which he was confined, but, being detected, he was removed to another cell. Yesterday he was detected in cutting a plank in the partition of the cells. He has been so well taken care of, that further danger from his attempts is not apprehended.

MARRIED—On Thursday, August 15th, by Rev. Dr. White, at Calvary church, James C. Ward to Miss Maria J. Holst, both of this city.

One of our most enterprising merchants and popular citizens has thus linked his fortunes with one of our most elegant and estimable young ladies, and we tender the couple our warmest congratulations upon the consummation of the joyous event, and earnestly hope that the star of prosperity may ever continue in the ascendant in their sky, and their future be an unbroken scene of peace, harmony and connubial felicity. May the virtues which adorn the one continue to be daily illustrated in the character of the other, and their final day be gold-tipped with the effulgence of useful, well-spent and happy lives.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.

THE COMING DRAMATIC SEASON.

New Stars Engaged—Full List of the Stock Company.

New and Attractive Faces.

The clever and popular manager of the New Memphis theater, W. C. Thompson, Esq., returned last night from an extended visit to the east, where he has been to engage the necessary talent to open and run his theater during the fall and winter campaign. His efforts have been successful, in every particular, having succeeded, regardless of expense, in engaging the most brilliant stars on the continent, together with one of the best stock companies ever congregated together. The season will open on or about the 25th of September. Miss Avonia Jones being the first star, to be followed in rapid succession by Edwin Forrest, Edwin Booth, Edwin Adams, Ristori, Emilie Melville, Lotta, the California pet, Julia Dean, Kate Reignolds, Belle Boyd and Frank Mayo, the last named of California celebrity. In connection with the above, the Black Crook will be produced in all its original magnificence. The stock company has been well and carefully selected, and presents many of them new to a Memphis audience, but not unknown to the domestic world. The following is a complete list of those already engaged:

Leading Man—Mr. Frank Roach, of the Boston theater and Howard Atheneum. He stands very high as an actor, and has filled the position of leading man in a number of the principal theaters of the country.

First Comedian—Mr. Wm. Ellerton, an English actor, who made his first appearance in this country at the Broadway theater last winter.

Second Comedian—J. M. Sloan.

Old Man—W. W. Mitchell, from the Howard Atheneum, Boston.

Heavy Man—A. P. Anderson, from Mrs. John Drew's, Philadelphia.

Juvenile—Shirley France, from the Boston Theaters.

First Walking Gentleman—W. J. Ferguson, from the National Theater, Washington.

Second Walking Gentleman—R. B. Buck.

Leading Lady—Mrs. D. H. Allen, from the Boston and Howard. This lady has a fine reputation as an actress, and is said to be very handsome.

Heavy and Old Woman—Mrs. H. Moore, from Winter Garden.

Chambermaid—Miss Fannie Pierson, a very sprightly, handsome actress.

Juvenile Lady—Miss Fannie Edrian.

Walking Lady—Miss Joey M. Arnold.

Utility—Mrs. Harwood, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Gulick, Miss Jamison, etc.

As a worthy succession to Prof. Wm. Withers, jr., the orchestra will be controlled by Prof. Jacobi. He is one of the best musicians in the country, and cannot fail to give entire satisfaction. It will be gratifying to the majority of our play-goers to know that the services of the efficient and displaying scenic artist, S. W. Gulick, has been retained for the season. The handsome "New Memphis" is being redecorated, refitted and repainted, and will, on its re-opening, present a more handsome appearance than ever. "'Tis not in mortals to command success:" Manager Thompson "will do more—deserve it." We heartily wish him all the success his enterprising efforts deserve.

CHELSEA CRICKET CLUB.—The annual election of officers for this club for the ensuing year, was held a short time since. The following was the result of the ballot: A. B. Forstie, re-elected president; Jno. V. Handwerker, vice-president; Fred. Attwood, treasurer; F. W. Brodi, secretary; C. Oberst, George Hawkins, R. J. Rawlings, committee of management; George Klander, field captain. This club is in a promising condition, and during the next season may give the rival club of St. George a spirited contest.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street, and 393 Main street, have received the New York Ledger, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Banner of Light, Sunday Times, Boston Pilot, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and New York papers.

The Aurora Oil.—The introduction of this oil is destined to work a great revolution in the lighting world. It possesses many advantages over all other means of light, from the fact that it is much cheaper than gas or coal oil, is free from any offensive smell, and best of all, non-explosive. We have examined it thoroughly, and without hesitation pronounce it superior to anything extant for the purposes for which it is recommended. It is also superior to turpentine for paints, oils and varnishes. The proprietors, Messrs. H. C. Dewitt & Co., have an office at 24 Madison street, but they dispose of state and county rights to manufacture only. Their patent has seventeen years to run. Territory is being sold rapidly, and parties desiring to make money will find this a good investment. Don't forget, 24 Madison street, up stairs. ap21 tf

The Mississippi Diarrhea Cordial. In the summers that have passed, thousands of sufferers from Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhea and Dysentery have been relieved and permanently cured by the use of the true and genuine Mississippi Diarrhea Cordial, a remedy which is forever bound to maintain a permanent place in public estimation. The proprietors take pleasure in referring to all the old citizens of Memphis and nearly all the planters of the Mississippi valley in testimony of the manifold medicinal virtues of this wonderful medical discovery; it would not be too much for them to state that this one remedy has cured more cases and relieved more suffering than all other remedies of its class combined. We hope to see our friend return ere long much improved. During his absence, Capt. P. H. Johnson will attend to the wants of the patrons of the office.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—I will be at the IUKA SPRINGS HOTEL, Iuka, Miss., Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, each week, from and after this date until the FIRST of September next (1867). Those who desire to meet, consult and place themselves under my treatment there, can do so. Those who prefer coming to this city, can consult me, at my office here, Thursdays, Fridays or Saturdays each week.

My extensive practice, and successful treatment of all forms of CHRONIC DISEASES in the South for many years past—especially the last six years in this city—is sufficient guarantee to those who are yet afflicted, to justify confidence in my ability to accomplish all that medical skill and remedial aid can do.

I do not profess to perform "MIRACLES" by the laying on of the hands," NOR CAN ANY OTHER MAN NOW LIVING. Such pretenders can have influence only upon the credulous and weak minded. My treatment, of all cases, is based upon proper scientific medical skill, aided by a life devotion and extensive experience.

My charges are moderate in every case—far more so than many others of the profession who make the effort and yet FAIL to cure.

For many years past I have made the following my principal SPECIALITIES, viz:

CONSUMPTION, and various diseases of the Lungs and Throat,
DISEASE OF THE LIVER,
DISEASE OF THE HEART,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
CHRONIC DISEASES of Stomach and Bowels,
DYSPEPSIA—(Indigestion),
RHEUMATISM—all its various forms,
NEURALGIA,
NERVOUS HEADACHE, EPILIPSY,
GENERAL DEBILITY—Nervous Affections,
SCROFULOUS, and other diseases originating in Impurities of the Blood and vital fluids.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Such as are afflictive in their nature, and sooner or later, if not removed, will ruin the constitution, entail years of suffering, or bring the victim to an untimely grave.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Office Metropolitan Police Commissioners.

MEMPHIS, August 9, 1867.

J. D. Davis, Tax Collector on Privileges:

I am instructed by the Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners to notify you that on and after the 12th instant you will be required to collect the sum of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS on all licenses granted to keepers of tippling houses within the city of Memphis, as an annual privilege tax. No further demands will be made of ten per cent. on amount of stock purchased during the previous year from parties taking out new licenses. This action of the Board is based upon the following section of the amendment to the City Charter passed March 9, 1867:

"SEC. 15. That the Board of Mayor and Aldermen is authorized to increase the tax on tippling houses to two hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and in case of neglect or refusal to increase it to at least one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, then the Board of Police Commissioners is hereby authorized to levy the said tax of not less than one hundred and fifty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, the same to be collected by the Tax Collector as in other cases."

You are furthermore instructed to institute suits against parties whose licenses have expired, and who have failed to make payment of amounts due the city for the ten per centum tax on the amount of their purchases of stock as required by existing ordinance.

I am further instructed to inform you that the Board of Police Commissioners have in contemplation a still further increase of this tax to two hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and that such increase will probably be made on the 1st of September next.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store.

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent for compressment from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

AS administrator of the estate of J. M. Lyles, deceased, I wish to dispose of either a half or his entire interest as SOLE Lessee of the Mississippi State Penitentiary. My brother's lease continues for 13 years, under an act of the Legislature of the State. My object in offering to sell this Lease, either in whole or in part, is to relieve myself of the responsibility of personal attention to the management of the business, which must, of course, center at Jackson, the State Capital, and to be properly controlled would require my immediate and constant supervision. I am a merchant, have a family, and am PERMANENTLY located at Oxford, Miss., and am otherwise so situated that I cannot give the immense interest growing out of this Lease that attention which it deserves. There are at this time about two hundred convicts in the Penitentiary. For particulars address me at Oxford, Miss.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated
Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch

SEWING MACHINES.
Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.
1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting them.
9. Watching and varying the tensions upon the threads necessary in other machines is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover and Baker Machine any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change or arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE OLD CANOE.

The Compass and Square assigns the authorship of the following poem to the Editor of the APPEAL. We do not know who the author of it is, but it is not ours. We wish we could claim it:

Where the rocks are gray and the shore is steep,
And the waters below look dark and deep;
Where the rugged pine in its lonely pride
Leans gloomily over the murky tide;
Where the reeds and rushes are tall and rank,
Where the weeds grow thick on the winding bank,
Where the shadow is heavy the whole day through,
Lies at its moorings the old canoe.

The useless paddles are idly dropped,
Like a sea bird's wings that the storm hath stopped,
And crossed on the railing, one o'er one,
Like folded hands when the work is done;
While busily back and forth between,
The spider stretches his silvery screen,
And the solemn owl, with his dull 'too-whoo,'
Nestles down on the side of the old canoe.

The stern half-sunk in the slimy wave,
Rots slowly away in its hidden grave;
And the green moss creeps o'er its dull decay,
Hiding the mouldering craft away.
Like the hand that plants o'er the tomb a flower,
Or the ivy that mantles a fallen tower,
While many a blossom of liveliest hue
Springs up o'er the stern of the old canoe.

The currentless waves are dead and still,
But the light winds play with the boat at will,
And lazily in and out again
It floats the length of its rusty chain,
Like the weary march of the hands of time
That meet and part at the noon-tide chime;
And the shore is kissed at each turn anew
By the dipping bow of the old canoe.

Oh, many a time with a careless hand
I have pushed it away from the pebbly strand,
And paddled it down where the stream ran quick,
When the whirls were wild and the storm was thick;
And laughed, as I leaned on the rocking side,
And looked below in the broken tide,
To see that the faces and boats were two
That were mirrored back from the old canoe.

But now, as I lean on the crumbling side
And look below in the sluggish tide,
The face that I see is graver grown,
And the laugh that I hear has a sober tone;
And the hand that lent to the light skiff wings,
Has grown familiar with sterner things.
But I love to think of the hours that flew
As I rocked where the whirls their wild spray threw,
Ere the blossoms waved or the green grass grew,
O'er the mouldering stern of the old canoe.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE APPEAL.

STEAMER HAWKEYE STATE,
MISSISSIPPI RIVER, NEAR LACROSSE, WIS.,
August 7, 1867.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Since we left St. Louis our course of travel has been filled with delightful incidents, and the pleasures that naturally arise during a voyage on a river that is bordered by such ever-changing and varied scenery as that of the upper Mississippi. Tourists are usually very rapturous in their descriptions of the panorama exhibited on a journey of this character. There is much to make them so, whether the views are taken in a romantic or utilitarian sense. Along the beautiful expanse of these rich and fertile valleys, and over all the magnificent reaches of undulating hills, there are constantly visible, over a stretch of hundreds of miles, the most gratifying evidences of the thrift and industry of the western people. Immense farms, covered with wheat and the most luxurious growth of corn, appear everywhere; villages, towns and cities are constantly in sight. The labor of the husbandman is visible on every point that can be made available. Enterprise seems to have made this section the especial domain, where the most flattering results of wealth and comfort can be obtained. From St. Louis to LaCrosse, near which city we are now sailing, the river scenery is monotonous, and presents much sameness of outlines and features, yet it is very beautiful. The river maintains a broad expanse of water hardly varying in width throughout its whole course. Innumerable islands stud the surface, presenting the most pleasing variety of obstructions to the view. At intervals magnificent vista stretch out before the vision, the dim blue outlines of the bluffs cross them and shut off the view. Often the course of the channel, as it winds between the islands, seems to be closed against our progress; we turn a point, and a magnificent view of water surprises us into exclamations of delight. The irregular outlines of bluffs, that border the river, garnish it as a beautiful framework. The prairies, fertile hills and hights, are covered with luxuriant herbage and crowned with fine houses, barns, etc. Villages are constantly in sight, and around them especially, there are noticeable finely cultivated farms, on which innumerable fields of wheat gleam in every direction. This cereal seems to be especially the favorite production of all this upper country. From St. Louis to Davenport, the fields have been cut and cleared, and all the wheat is in stacks and barns or threshed, but from Davenport northward, there is a great deal of grain yet unripe and unharvested. About Dubuque, the harvest has just begun. Thence to La Crosse, the reapers are at work, though there is very little of the crop ripe. Ten days or two weeks will elapse before the harvest will be in full operation. The yield of grain in this section is enormous. The season has been very late, yet more propitious otherwise than for many years previous to the present. The usual yield is reckoned at twenty to thirty, or more, bushels of wheat to the acre. A great many fields contain several hundreds of acres. The smooth, level prairie surface is free from obstructions, hence all manner of machinery that is available is used to save muscle and secure the crops quickly. A wonderful variety of reaping machines are in use for this purpose. The greater number of the threshers combine winnowing mills and separators in the same machine. They are placed on wheels, and can be removed from point to point like an ordinary wagon. Throughout all this section the farmers use steam engines for running these machines, and thereby the work is done very rapidly. The engines are light, set on ordinary wheels, and are easily moved from field to field. They are used also for all manner of farm use, such as sawing wood, grinding food for stock, etc. Thus these appliances are not only made to subserve the uses of the farm, secure the crops quickly and advantageously, but also curtail largely the expenses of labor.

The principal grain produce of all this upper country is spring wheat. The flour of it ranks as a low grade, and is sold in the St. Louis market at about two dollars a barrel less than winter wheat, or that which is raised below the fortieth degree of latitude. Enormous shipments of northern produce are beginning already to seek the lower river markets. There has been such an abundance, such an enormous surplus of grains raised everywhere this year, that prices must necessarily be reduced to low figures.

There are numerous evidences of wonderful improvement visible everywhere along the river. The cities on the Illinois side, from St. Louis to Keokuk, are thriving and rapidly increasing. Quincy, for example, is one of the most beautifully and substantially built cities on the river. It is situated on a very high bluff, has magnificent residences, stores and churches, is built of bricks and stone, has an admirably arranged system of railways and steamboat lines, is rapidly increasing in population and importance, and is improving steadily and substantially. It is handsomely built, beautifully located on a high and airy bluff, and has a promise of a splendid future in prospect. There are numerous beautifully built villages along the Missouri shore, above St. Louis, but some peculiar conditions of the late war has had a strangulating influence on their prosperity. At present the contemptible and degrading radical misrule that afflicts the state like an incubus on its energies, and prevents its resources from being developed, is rather disposed to cause its every interest to retrograde than to foster and improve its immense advantages. As the result of Fletcher's contemptible barbarism, militia despotism, etc., the beautiful towers of Louisiana, Hannibal, LaGrange, Canton, Alexandria, and other places, that were once very prosperous are now afflicted and stupefied with oxpolitical nightmare. Above Keokuk, the improving towns and cities are all on the Iowa shore. Business is the very deadest in all the God-forsaken and dilapidated villages, and aborted cities on the Illinois side. In many of them, the only improvement of the past ten years, that is visible, is that the houses that fell down or were burned, etc., have, perhaps, been replaced by new and well built structures. The genii of the camp and the mine have been at work on the Iowa side. Luxuriant fields are visible constantly; fine buildings appear everywhere; the cities are splendidly built, and improving in the most substantial manner. The public buildings are imposing and elegant structures, not only ornamental, but very substantial. Railways stretch their long iron fingers far into the interior and gather to these grainary depots the golded treasures of immense fields. The levees are solid and well adapted to the uses of commerce. Warehouses are located conveniently to boats, railways and business centers. Every convenience that inventive genius can secure is applied to make business advantageous to all parties concerned. Of this character, especially, are Muscatine, Davenport and Dubuque. The former is especially one of the most thriving and important cities that is visible from a boat. Davenport has increased at least three or four times in size and population during the past ten years. It has magnificent buildings, fine stores and delightful residences. Its streets are well laid out, and present a neat and smooth appearance. The entire city is very attractive, is a good buisness point, and rapidly improving. As an episode, we were treated here to an example of the fondness of these people for the negro. Our crew consists of black deck hands. A party of whites attacked them on shore, and banged them with rocks that flew for a while like shot on a battlefield. Our crew was driven on the boat, lost their stage, and were generally worsted in the encounter. They presented some torn faces, bloody noses, and lost their hats. Altogether it was a very lively scene to occur in radical-ridden Iowa. What a breeze the riot would have stirred in a southern city. The military and police would have been called out, and King Philip would have declared martial law. In Davenport, Iowa, it was laughed at as a good joke.

COUSIN NOURMA.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, August 15, 1867.

This has been the quietest day of the season in local money matters and will we hope prove the turning point in our affairs. The excessive quietness of the day was not so perceptible on our thoroughfares as at our banks, where there appeared to be nothing doing, and bank officers were having as easy times as though the community had gone to a hustings. Collections from the country come in very slowly, if at all, while currency as fast as received is being shipped east to meet exchange.

Gold is a shade lower than on yesterday, but the corn market is very tame, and the transactions trivial—39 to 39½c were the prevailing gold rates, while silver was taken at 30 to 31c for halves and quarters.

Exchange is in fair demand at par to ¼ premium buying; selling at ⅛ to ½ premium.

City scrip is not in active demand. Dealers offer 54 to 55c and sell at 56c.

There is very light demand for county warrants, and dealers are well supplied; 70c would be the outside buying rate. Selling at 75 to 80c.

Police scrip, after a few days of excitement has again begun to wane, owing to the legal questions which must be settled before the additional saloon taxes can be collected, if they ever can at all. Brokers are not anxious at present to buy, and to-day 70c was the best offer we could learn of; selling at 75 to 76c.

Bonds and stocks dull and nominal.

Great Britain has quite as many people who are suffering from the consequences of foolish speculations as the United States. The London Railway News, in a late editorial says:

"The extraordinary number of advertisements of properties to be sold, now to be seen daily, is proof of the wide-spread ruin which has followed the last round of indiscriminate stock exchange speculation, but which does not publicly show itself."

There was, if anything, rather more stir among our commission and provision houses to-day than we have noticed upon the same day of the week for two months past. The advance in meats above has caused a similar one here, and although the supply is fair, there was a marked activity in both mess pork and bacon. Corn is very dull and sales are small, being mostly for local use. We quote yellow and white nominal at $1 05 to $1 10. Cornmeal is not so plentiful, and in more request; sales on levee at $5 75 to $6, and in store at $6 to $6 25. Oats are higher and supply light—55 to 58c on levee. Hay is scarce, but the demand is altogether local. New timothy on levee sells at $27 to $30. Bran dull at $15 to $17. Potatoes in good supply at $3 to $3 50 per barrel. Onions are sold at $4 to $4 50 per barrel. Apples are dull at $1 50 to $2 per barrel. Choice butter, 20 to 22c; common, not quotable. Chickens, a fair supply—young, $4 to $4 50; old, $5 to $5 50. Coffee, rio, 25 to 28c. Eggs dull at 17 to 18c. Flour, dull, fine, $6 50 to $7; X, $9 to $10; XX, $10 50 to $11; fancy brands, $12 to $14. Lard in tierces, 12¾ to 13c; kegs, 14 to 14½c. Mess pork, $26 25 to $26 50; clear sides, 16½ to 17c; shoulders, 13½ to 14c; canvassed hams, 18 to 20c; sugar cured, 21 to 22c. Salt, $3 25 per bbl. Sugar, 17 to 20c for crushed and clarified; 14 to 17c for brown. Western Reserve cheese, 14 to 16c; factory, 16c. Whisky, common, $1 65 to $2.

We learn that the army worm has made its appearance in this county. On the plantation of Mr. D. Townsend, one and a half miles from White's station on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, they, in the space of a few hours, destroyed quite a large patch of grass, after which they pulled up stakes and left. So far as we can learn their ravages are confined to the grass, but should they commence on cotton we may yet hear sad reports of devastation by this scourge to the planters.

The first bale of new cotton from Louisiana was received at New Orleans on the 13th.

Georgia, while she shows a disposition to withdraw from politics and let the rump and the brigadiers work their will of her, has turned her attention in good earnest to the development of her domestic resources, particularly in the way of manufacturing. Columbus and Augusta are both fast becoming great manufacturing centers; and it is a curious fact that the cotton and paper mills of these, as well as some other places in the south, are turning out better and cheaper goods than their rivals in the north. The balance of trade has actually been turned, and cotton goods and printing paper are being daily shipped to the north.

Everybody knew that most Chicago business was gambling, but very few people expected a confession of the truth or the arrest of the gamblers. Naturally, the arrest of some of her enterprising grain dealers for selling "short" causes considerable excitement in that city. Other business men begin to ask, "if these dealers are to be 'pulled,' when will my turn come?" Perhaps the large stories of Chicago grain operations find a reasonable explanation in this phenomenon. It is easy to sell what one has not got—and to sell a great deal of it, too. The question now is, how much of Chicago's boasted business is real, and how much is merely "selling short?"

It is instructive and sometimes profitable, as well as curious, to examine the way in which the cost of a commodity is piled up between producer and consumer by freights, handling, duties, exchange and the commissions and profits of middlemen. Tea, for instance, is sold by the grower in China and Japan at various prices, from about 15 to 30 cents a pound. With freights added, it is said to cost, when laid down in any of our principal seaports, an average of 50 cents in gold a pound for superior brands of "chops." Taking this as a starting point, the additional charges before it reaches the table of the consumer are said to accumulate as follows: Original cost of tea, imported, 50 cents; discount on currency to pay for it, 20 cents; duty on gold, 25 cents; discount on currency to make up the gold, 15 cents; contingencies, 10 cents; profit of importers, 12 cents; profit of jobber, 13 cents; profit of retailer, say 28 cents—total $1 74. Of this, 54 cents are comprised in three profits, 35 cents in exchange for gold, 25 cents in duties, and 10 cents in contingencies—in all $1 24, in addition to the cost on board ship at our wharves. Before the war the cost would have been about as follows: Original cost, imported, 50 cents; 10 per cent. for contingencies, 5 cents; profit of importers, 5 cents; profit of jobber, 6 cents; profit to the retailer, 14 cents—total, 80 cents.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND BUSINESS.

The weather yesterday was warm, but a very pleasant breeze was felt during the day. Business on the landing dull. At this point the river falls steadily. The Ohio is low, with less than two feet ten inches to Louisville. The St. Louis Democrat of Thursday says: River still declining here. Eight feet water to Cairo, six feet to Keokuk, three feet or so in the lower and less in the upper Illinois. Steamer Will S. Hays still up that river, at Peoria, doing nothing. Rumors of the principal owner, Mr. Fraser, having bought out the other numerous owners, paid the boats numerous debts, and about to set her in motion to this port. Missouri river declining. Missouri pilots are careful, and have kept boats, so far, out of trouble, but they will soon be sticking all along. Careful piloting is now absolutely necessary hence to Cairo. We predict an increase of rates to New Orleans next Monday. Light draft boats ought to become, in a few days, an important feature hence to Memphis and New Orleans. Our St. Paul packets have plenty of water yet.

Silver Cloud, Celeste, Rowena, Lady.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. Thomas E. Richardson has been appointed general Southern passenger agent of the Atlantic and Great Western railway, in place of Col. Ike Paist, deceased. Mr. R. will be in this city in a few days.

The Silver Cloud arrived yesterday from New Orleans, with 400 tons of railroad iron bound for Cincinnati. She blew out a cylinder head below this city, and laid over until to-day repairing.

The Rubicon will pass down to-day for Vicksburg. Capt. Bill Blake commands.

The Lady Gay, Capt. Lloyd Belt, will be in port to-day and leave for New Orleans at 5 p.m. Mr. Lehman is clerk. The Gay wants one hundred tons of freight.

The fine and swift Rowena will be in port this morning. She leaves again to-morrow evening for White river, connecting as usual with the train at Devall's Bluff for Little Rock. The Rowena has no superior as a passenger packet, and her officers are A No. 1. Capt. Davis is chief, and his clerks are Messrs. Kidder and Harry.

The Celeste, Capt. Ferd Hamilton, will get away on Saturday for all landings on the Arkansas as high as Little Rock. Jimmy Thompson and Sam. Wood are pursurs.

The spanking City of Cairo will light out for the city which she honors by bearing her name, and St. Louis, to-morrow evening. Bob. Riley is master.

The wrecking boat Salvor No. 2 has gone to Tennessee river to wreck the Mazeppa, Skylark and other available boats. Afterward she will wreck the Black Hawk, near Cairo.

A woman at Cairo attempted suicide all for love of a gay steward on the river.

The Totten has made a complete removal of the wreck of the J. R. Gilmore, blowing up the greater portion of it with nine torpedoes, and dragging the cylinder timbers and such other portions as remained to the shore and out of the way of steamers. Search was made for the wreck of the Courier, but it could not be found, and is supposed to be entirely covered with sand, causing no obstruction. The hull of the old Mount Vernon, sunk in the same locality twenty-two years ago, was found in thirty-six feet of water, and is consequently no obstruction. The Peerless was removed when the Salvor wrecked her, and the only obstruction remaining is the wreck of the Black Hawk, which is under contract to be removed by the Salvor, and consequently the Totten did not touch it. We want the Totten to come to Memphis and make another effort at the wreck of the Jeff. Thompson.

Capt. Olds died at Baily Springs a few days ago. He was for many years one of the most popular steamboat captains that ever traveled the Alabama river.

The party under Capt. Roberts engaged in making a survey of the Ohio river, under the direction of the war department, are rapidly completing the work on the upper Ohio, and are expected at New Albany this month. Their boat has nearly reached Cincinnati.

An old gentleman ninety six years of age, by the name of Ronie, a Frenchman, who was a passenger on the Rose Hite, was drowned recently at the mouth of Wolf creek, on the Ohio river. He walked overboard accidentally.

Stewart & Barnum, of Jeffersonville, are busy at work on new steamers. Two steamboats and three barges are on the stocks at their yard, and orders have been received for more.

Capt. W. H. Austin, of St. Louis, has bought one-half of the steamer David Watts, at the rate of $16,000. She will be placed in the upper Mississippi trade with the old and well known Northern line pilot, Wash Hight, in command.

The J. H. Johnson is completed at St. Louis. She is in trim condition, braced up and thoroughly prepared to enter the lists with the terrible Tom. Jasper. Cheap freights and low rates of fare will characterize the contest.

The Muscatine Journal says that Gen. Wilson is now engaged in preparing specifications for the work on the improvements of the lower rapids of the Mississippi. The plan is that recommended by Gen. Wilson in his report to the secretary of war, the construction of a canal along the river bank, in some places to be taken for short distances on the shore.

ACTION OF LIME ON SOIL.—The distinguished chemist, Bouissingault, has just read before the French academy of sciences, a paper on the employment of lime in agriculture. It has not been published, but M. Barrel gives the following as the substance of it, which we translate from the Journal d'Agriculture Practique:

Lime introduced in an arable soil very quickly sets at liberty a certain quantity of azote in the state of ammonia; the azote elements were before united in insoluble combinations; the action of the lime sets them free, and permits a part of the capital buried in the soil to be utilized for the next crop. If this was the whole effect of lime, of which the experiments of Boussingault afforded evidence, small doses of it at once ought to be counselled, because the quantity of ammonia produced does not increase in proportion to the quantity of lime used. But as heavy limings produce incontestible effects in certain cases, it must be admitted that lime exerts an action of some other kind upon the elements of the mould. Boussingault thinks that certain minerals, such as potash and silicia, may be liberated in the soil by lime; that other substances, injurious to plants, are destroyed or modified by the same agent, and that to these effects is added, moreover, a physical action, changing the constitution of the land. The action of the lime is thus excessively complex, and its good effects can only be explained by studying attentively the special circumstances under which they are produced. The grand fact proven by the present researches of this agricultural savan is, that there exists in this mould, as well as in the form of organic matters, a host of substances completely inert for vegetation, until the moment when some proper agent renders them assimilable by plants. The continuance of experiments upon the method devised by Boussingault, can alone clear up these excessively complex facts, and point out to our agriculturists the most effective process. The discovery of methods which conduct to truth, is often the greatest service that can be rendered to science and to art.

WANTED—THE PATENT
AURORA OIL.

We want men everywhere to study their own INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is NO MORE explosive than a tallow candle. Any Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney—it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bills while here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold worth.

The carriers will be around this morning to collect their weekly dues. We hope you will be ready with your quarters, as they will then be able to settle with the office. Further, we hope you will, for the carriers' convenience, erect boxes at your gates, or cut holes in your doors, that the papers may be placed so that none but yourselves can get them, as Memphis is now infested with paper thieves.

COMMITTED.—John Riley, the man charged with selling Col. Jesse Forrest's horse to a negro doctor, was up before Justice Hall yesterday, and in default of bail, sent to the criminal court for trial.

DIED.—At Galveston, Texas, on the 2d inst., of yellow fever, Mr. J. R. Pointer, a native of Kentucky. The deceased was a printer, was well known to many of the craft in Memphis and other southern cities. Louisville, Georgetown and Frankfort (Ky.) papers please notice.

BOUND OVER.—A man named Mark Castello, was up before Mr. Justice Miller yesterday, on a peace warrant issued at the instance of John Thompson, and bound over in the sum of two thousand dollars to keep the peace towards the said Thompson, and all other good citizens of the state of Tennessee.

STEALING WHEELS.—Some evil-disposed person or persons, not having the fear of the law before their eyes, stole three wheels from the spring wagon of Mr. Justice Miller, in Chelsea, yesterday morning. The 'Squire is anxious to find the thieves, and promises to prosecute them to the fullest extent.

ARRIVED SAFE.—Intelligence was received by the chief of police here yesterday that the man, John Gallagher, had been safely delivered to the sheriff of Henderson county, Ills. It may be remembered that this man was arrested here some days since, charged with having committed murder in Henderson county some time ago.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—The enterprising firm of Linkhauer & Brother, 281½ Second street, have on hand an excellent supply of boots and shoes of their own make, and are practical and accomplished boot makers, who never fail to give satisfaction. See card in another column.

MAGIC.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that a home article of soap is being manufactured by P. McGimsey in this city. The soap is highly recommended by those who have used it and is well worthy of a trial. It is useless to purchase articles of foreign manufacture when those made at home answer equally as good, if not a better purpose.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, have received Beadle's Dime Novel No. 130, Turf, Field and Farm, Irish People, Metropolitan Record, Freeman's Journal, Criminal Zeitung, New York Clipper, Irish American, New York Ledger, Literary Album, Chimney Corner, Boston Pilot, Sunday Times, Banner of Light.

ON THE WING.—W. T. Thurmond, of the firm of Thurmond, Foster & Co., left last night for St. Louis, to purchase the favorite brands of tobacco, etc., for which his house is famous. We desire to see him return ere long. In the meantime his worthy partner, "Foster," may be found at the store on Second street, corner of Union, attending to the wants of his customers as of old.

NEW MAIL ROUTE.—There is now a mail route in operation between Memphis and the thriving town of Byhalia, Miss., via Olive Branch. The establishment of this route was very much needed and will prove a great convenience to planters and others in that vicinity. We hope this is only an installment of improvements of the same character yet to come. They are sadly needed in almost every section.

BLACK THIEVES.—That negroes will steal anything they can lay their hands on is a well known fact. As a class they are dishonest. Day after day numbers of them are brought before the various courts charged with petit and grand larceny. Yesterday two of this class was brought before Mr. Justice Walton, charged with larceny; they gave their names as Allan Cole and Nelson Harvey. Being unable to give bail in the sum of two thousand dollars each, they were sent to the criminal court for trial.

COMING SOON.—The favorite White river packet Des Arc has been put in splendid order, and will leave St. Louis on the 10th of September for this point, and will leave Memphis for White river on the 13th. Arrangements have been made to ticket passengers through from Duvall's Bluff via Memphis and Little Rock railroad. The popular John D. Elliott, so long and favorably known to the White river folks, will be in command of the Des Arc, with Wm. Miller and Cad. Hanks as clerks. The steamer, as well as her officers, are too well known to require commendation. We barely state the facts, to let our numerous friends on White river know that their favorite is surely coming.

AN ACCOMPLISHED ARCHITECT.—We devoted a half hour of leisure yesterday, both profitably and pleasantly, to an inspection of the many beautiful architectural designs ornamenting the walls in the office of our ex-Confederate friend, Mr. M. H. Baldwin, in the "Kit Williams block"—which, by the way, was designed by himself, and erected under his own supervision—where can be seen plans for every species of edifice from the sumptuous and highly ornate villa to the simplest cottage of two or three rooms, and in each and all the original designs by this gentleman can be readily traced not only the skill of a thoroughly accomplished draughtsman, but the practical knowledge so essential in this profession. The fine banking house next door to the DeSoto bank, just nearing completion, and many handsome business and other buildings in the city, planned and erected by him, are lasting monuments of his practical experience and correct taste, and an acquaintance of long standing justifies us in saying he is a courteous and perfectly responsible gentleman, with whom it is a pleasure to transact business.

THE PAVING OF MAIN STREET

CALLED MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

The Proposed Agreement Between the City and the Street Railroad Company Referred to a Special Committee.

4

A called meeting of the board of mayor and aldermen was held at the council chamber yesterday afternoon. The board was called to order at half past three o'clock. There were present Hon. Henry J. Lynn, mayor pro tem., Chairman Hulbert, Aldermen Powers, Glancy, Cochran, Amis, Holst, O'Donnell, Shaw, Lemon, Smith and Passmore.

The chairman stated that the meeting had been called by the mayor, for the purpose of taking into consideration the difficulty existing between the city authorities and the city railroad company.

The city attorney read, for the consideration of the board, a draft of agreement or contract to be entered into between the parties, which would facilitate the speedy laying of the pavement on Main street, and leave the matters now in dispute for future adjudication by the courts.

Alderman Amis moved that the mayor be empowered to sign the contract.

Alderman Shaw was fearful that the road, if laid according to the terms of the contract, would not be beneficial, as it would not be water-tight.

Alderman Cochran was in favor of referring the matter to a special committee of five to report at the next regular meeting.

Alderman Smith thought the best course to pursue was to petition the legislature to so amend the act as to place the matter more under the immediate control of the city authorities.

Alderman Shaw was in favor of the reference, as suggested by Alderman Cochran.

Alderman Glancy desired to have Main street paved at once, and if necessary to do so, tear up the track and let the company fix it at their own expense.

Alderman Smith said that the street railroad had laid their tracks and altered them without asking or referring to the board in any single case.

Alderman Powers was in favor of a compromise. The question as to which was the most proper rail to be used was a vexed one, and not easily settled, and the longer it was deferred the worse the city would be off.

Alderman Amis still opposed the reference. The contract provided to have the paving done and the matter settled in the courts.

The city attorney, by permission of the board, explained at some length the object and purpose of the contract. The motion of Alderman Cochran was adopted by a vote of 6 to 4.

Shaw, Amis, Cochran, Passmore and Powers were appointed the committee in accordance with the resolution. A communication was read from the city register, accompanied by communications from the city attorney and acting Mayor Lynn, in reference to the amount charged as licenses for tippling houses.

Alderman Smith moved that the matter be referred to a select committee of three, to report at the next meeting of the board. Aldermen Smith, Powers and Lemon were appointed such committee.

The sergeant-at-arms was instructed to notify the property holders on Auction street to lay down brick pavement.

Alderman Smith submitted the resignation of Dr. Grant as a member of the board of health.

The mayor nominated Dr. Paul H. Otey. Nomination confirmed unanimously.

On motion of Alderman Shaw the board adjourned.

RECOVERED.—Two gold watches and a quantity of silverware was recovered yesterday by detectives Selkirk and Connell. They were found in possession of a negro woman in South Memphis, who said they had been given her by a colored gentleman. A portion of the silverware was identified as the property of W. B. Miller. The watches have not yet been claimed. A silver napkin ring, with the name "Clara" engraved thereon, was in the lot; also a silver mug with the following inscription: "Washington Rifle company target shooting, October 12, 1857, first prize." The man who was said to have given the property to the woman was arrested and acknowledged the theft. He was placed in prison and will probably be handed over to the tender mercies of the state to-day.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A portion of the bank on Clinton street fell yesterday morning about nine o'clock, burying one of the workmen, John Cushing. Every effort was made to rescue him, but in vain. When he was dug out life was extinct. He was about forty-five years of age, and was supposed to be a single man. He had only been on the works about three weeks. Coroner Cotton was immediately sent for, and held an inquest. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death. An order was given for the burial of the body. Cushing had no relatives in Memphis.

POLICE MATTERS.—Only thirty-five persons put in an appearance before the police commissioner yesterday at both stations. The sum of three hundred and fifteen dollars was assessed and only twenty-nine dollars collected, the class of persons at the bar having no stamps wherewith to settle. Six vagrant negroes were sent to the chain-gang and another "cullud pusson" fined fifty dollars for carrying concealed weapons, which he will have to work out. Rather dull business, this, for the treasury.

A MULE ON THE RAMPAGE.—One of the long-eared species, already saddled and bridled, got loose on Main street yesterday and was pursued by several men and boys. The mule taking fright sought refuge in Packer's coal office, opposite the Overton, where he was captured. A negro boy mounted the animal but was soon thrown on the pavement, his shoulder being dislocated in the fall. The mule went on towards Chelsea, none daring to interfere or make him afraid.

THE SALOON KEEPERS met last night and organized to make determined resistance to Beaumont's license order. Committees were appointed to raise funds, and Cols. Cameron and Young were chosen consulting counsel.

The Aurora Oil.—The introduction of this oil is destined to work a great revolution in the lighting world. It possesses many advantages over all other means of light, from the fact that it is much cheaper than gas or coal oil, is free from any offensive smell, and best of all, non-explosive. We have examined it thoroughly, and without hesitation pronounce it superior to anything extant for the purposes for which it is recommended. It is also superior to turpentine for paints, oils and varnishes. The proprietors, Messrs. H. C. Dewitt & Co., have an office at 24 Madison street, but they dispose of state and county rights to manufacture only. Their patent has seventeen years to run. Territory is being sold rapidly, and parties desiring to make money will find this a good investment. Don't forget, 24 Madison street, up stairs. ap21 tf

Mississippi Diarrhea Cordial—Caution!—We earnestly caution the public against several spurious imitations of this incomparable remedy, gotten up under the head of "Diarrhea Cordial," the object of which is to deceive, and thereby take advantage of the merited reputation of the Mississippi Diarrhea Cordial. Beware of such worthless trash. Ask for the genuine article, prepared only by us, and you cannot possibly be disappointed. Prepared only by Mansfield & Higbee, Wholesale Druggists, Memphis, Tenn., sole proprietors.

Another Tournament.—We are advised that there will be a Grand Tournament at Augusta, Ark., the third of September. Lists open to the world. Parties desiring to be present can purchase tickets at half fare on the popular steamers Rowena and Commercial. This will no doubt be an interesting affair. The good people of Augusta are famed for their hospitality, and will on this, as on former occasions, make everbody feel at home.' aug17 3t

SCOUNDRELISM ON THE RAMPAGE.

JACKSON, TENN., August 12, 1867.

Publishers of Appeal:

Gentlemen: As I am a subscriber to the "Memphis DAILY APPEAL," I wish to know if my papers are regularly sent to this place. For the last three weeks I have only received from two to four papers per week, and never receive my Sunday's paper before Wednesday. This is too bad! Can nothing be done to correct it? Yours, truly,
G. ADAMSON.

Immediately after the election on the 1st of August, the APPEAL was simultaneously suppressed on all the roads running out of Memphis, and at all places from which we have heard, in every direction.

The same fate, we believe, befel the Avalanche, while the Post and Bulletin have been received regularly everywhere. As the APPEAL is always mailed regularly and in time, for all subscribers, it is quite evident that its suppression was intentional and systematic; and it seems equally evident that the work is done in the postoffice here, whether of the mere motion of some one in the office, or by virtue of orders emanating from a higher source, we cannot say. It seems from the foregoing letter that the same thing continues. We believe it has been done by virtue of orders from headquarters here. We have received a dozen letters within three days, from every quarter, to the effect that our paper is only occasionally received since the 1st of August.

The APPEAL rarely falls into an error as to facts, and never misstates a fact intentionally. It does not assail individuals, even when we find it necessary to comment on acts. It must therefore be its expositions of evil deeds, and its arguments, the effects of which are feared, if it is permitted to reach the people of the State. Power may close the mails against it, because power just now is not restrained by law, and commits crimes with impunity; but power cannot stifle or suppress the truth. It may silence its advocates; but the Truth itself will speak and be heard, even if buried in the same grave with the Constitution and the liberties of more than half the white men of the State.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—I will be at the IUKA SPRINGS HOTEL, Iuka, Miss., Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, each week, from and after this date until the FIRST of September next (1867). Those who desire to meet, consult and place themselves under my treatment there, can do so. Those who prefer coming to this city, can consult me, at my office here, Thursdays, Fridays or Saturdays each week.

My extensive practice, and successful treatment of all forms of CHRONIC DISEASES in the South for many years past—especially the last six years in this city—is sufficient guarantee to those who are yet afflicted, to justify confidence in my ability to accomplish all that medical skill and remedial aid can do.

I do not profess to perform MIRACLES "by the laying on of the hands," NOR CAN ANY OTHER MAN NOW LIVING. Such pretenders can have influence only upon the credulous and weak minded. My treatment, of all cases, is based upon proper scientific medical skill, aided by a life devotion and extensive experience.

My charges are moderate in every case—far more so than many others of the profession who make the effort and yet FAIL to cure.

For many years past I have made the following my principal SPECIALITIES, viz:
CONSUMPTION, and various diseases of the Lungs and Throat,
DISEASE OF THE LIVER,
DISEASE OF THE HEART,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
CHRONIC DISEASES of Stomach and Bowels,
DYSPEPSIA—(Indigestion).
RHEUMATISM—all is various forms,
NEURALGIA,
NERVOUS HEADACHE, EPILIPSY,
GENERAL DEBILITY—Nervous Affections,
SCROFULOUS, and other diseases originating in Impurities of the Blood and vital fluids.

Such as are afflictive in their nature, and sooner or later, if not removed, will ruin the constitution, entail years of suffering, or bring the victim to an untimely grave.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Office Metropolitan Police Commissioners.

MEMPHIS, August 9, 1867.

J. D. Davis, Tax Collector on Privileges:

I am instructed by the Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners to notify you that on and after the 12th instant you will be required to collect the sum of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS on all licenses granted to keepers of tippling houses within the city of Memphis, as an annual privilege tax. No further demands will be made of ten per cent. on amount of stock purchased during the previous year from parties taking out new licenses. This action of the Board is based upon the following section of the amendment to the City Charter passed March 9, 1867:

"SEC. 15. That the Board of Mayor and Aldermen is authorized to increase the tax on tippling houses to two hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and in case of neglect or refusal to increase it to at least one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, then the Board of Police Commissioners is hereby authorized to levy the said tax of not less than one hundred and fifty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, the same to be collected by the Tax Collector as in other cases."

You are furthermore instructed to institute suits against parties whose licenses have expired, and who have failed to make payment of amounts due the city for the ten per centum tax on the amount of their purchases of stock as required by existing ordinance.

I am further instructed to inform you that the Board of Police Commissioners have in contemplation a still further increase of this tax to two hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and that such increase will probably be made on the 1st of September next.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent for compressment from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

AS administrator of the estate of J. M. Lyles, deceased, I wish to dispose of either a half or his entire interest as SOLE Lessee of the Mississippi State Penitentiary. My brother's lease continues for 13 years, under an act of the Legislature of the State. My object in offering to sell this Lease, either in whole or in part, is to relieve myself of the responsibility of personal attention to the management of the business, which must, of course, center at Jackson, the State Capital, and to be properly controlled would require my immediate and constant supervision. I am a merchant, have a family, and am PERMANENTLY located at Oxford, Miss., and am otherwise so situated that I cannot give the immense interest growing out of this Lease that attention which it deserves. There are at this time about two hundred convicts in the Penitentiary. For particulars address me at Oxford, Miss.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated

Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch

SEWING MACHINES.

Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting them.
9. Watching and varying the tensions upon the threads necessary in other machines is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover and Baker Machine any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change or arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

THIS Extraordinary Medicine, the fame of which is spread broadcast throughout the country, is undoubtedly superior to any remedy ever offered to the public for the complaints for which it is intended. We have in our possession testimonials furnished voluntarily by Col Long, late Chief Topographical Engineer Bureau at Washington, Gen. Fitz Henry Warren, Gen. Pleasanton, and others of the army; Father P. J. De Smet, the celebrated Indian Missionary, also Officers of the Navy, Surgeons, Hospital Stewards, Commanders of nearly every steamer plying on the Mississippi and tributary rivers, Western Sanitary and Christian Commissions, Army Chaplains, and others too numerous to mention. Likewise highest encomiums of the Press, most of which are published in our almanac, (which we shall send to any one requesting it) praising its valuable medicinal qualities in the highest terms. No other medicine has such recommendations.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE HOME IN THE PRAIRIE.

TO MRS. ELIAS RECTOR.

[ALBERT PIKE.]

The wind is low as woman's sigh,
The myriad stars are shining bright,
The pale moon, like a lustrous eye,
Smiles calmly on the brow of night;
And close beside her beams one star
Of Love, like woman's deep devotion,
Of one shrined thought the worshipper,—
Pouring its mellow light afar,
Mingled with moon-beams, on the prairie's waveless ocean.

All sounds of mortal sense are still;
The earth is like a weary child,
That, having played and wept its fill,
Sleeps calmly in the forest wild;
For she, with all her myriad brood
Of fiery passions, sleeps like heaven;
While not a murmur stirs the wood,
Or the green prairie's solitude,
Nor over heaven's face one restless cloud is driven.

And moon and stars and planets shine
Upon one home of happiness,
Flooding it with a light divine,
As though they would its inmates bless,
Where, by the night-breeze gently fanned,
Like giants calmly slumbering,
Old gnarled oaks, a sturdy band,
Around that lonely dwelling stand,
And over its roof their wild grotesque arms fondly fling.

This pleasant night will soon be gone,
As vanishes a sunny dream;—
'Tis but a bubble, floating on
Old Time's resistless, rapid stream.
Yet shall thy sky, dear lady, be
Forever cloudless, clear and bright
As this that now the angels see,
In all its glittering mystery,
Over thy peaceful home wheeling its silent flight.

The expose produced a sensation in Wall street, and is likely to give a shock to the public.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, August 16, 1867.

There is no movement to report in money to-day. It has been intimated that the agents of the freedmen's bureau in this city are about to liquidate some government claims for bounty, etc., but with what degree of truth we do not know. So many delusive rumors of this kind are circulated, however, by interested parties, that but little credit can be attached to them.

Gold is steady at 39 to 39½c buying. No local demand.

Silver was taken at 30 to 31c for halves and quarters.

Exchange is in fair demand at par to ¼ off buying; selling at ⅛ to ¼ premium.

City scrip is in good demand and dealers are anxious to buy at 55c; selling at 57c.

There is very light demand for county warrants, and dealers are well supplied; 70c would be the outside buying rate; selling at 75 to 80c.

Police scrip is dull. In most cases 70c is the offering rate, but one dealer bought a small lot during the day at 72c; selling at 74 to 75c.

Bonds and stocks dull and nominal.

The easy and inert condition of the New York money market is reflected in the bank averages, which show an increase in legal tenders of $948,669, and a decrease in deposits of $1,745,049, while the loans have fallen $1,512,776, and the specie $1,149,952.

Bankruptcy is expensive. One advertisement for the bankrupt Jacob Barker, of New Orleans, cost $1300.

A sensation rumor has been put in circulation in New York that a defalcation has been discovered in the treasury department at Washington, to the amount of two million dollars, while other rumors place it at hundreds of millions. The stories lack confirmation, but are industriously spread by the bear speculators.

The New Orleans Bulletin, of the 14th, says: Two hundred and seventy thousand dollars, in state notes, were reduced to ashes at the gas works yesterday in the presence of Gov. Flanders, the state treasurer, the auditor of public accounts and Mr. W. S. Pike, of the firm of Pike, Lapeyre & Brother. This was all legitimate, however, according to the statutes of Louisiana, and hence no loss to anybody, but rather a gain, as outstanding state notes are apt to appreciate by such transactions.

The treasury has extended the privilege of converting seven-thirties, falling due on the 15th inst., into five-twenties until the 15th of September. Those not then exchanged, will be paid in currency at the treasury and assistant treasuries in Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

COTTON—The market to-day was active and sales will aggregate in the neighborhood of 100 bales, in which but three or four buyers took part. Holders in some instances are asking from ¼ to 1c over quotations, but actual sales were made at our figures, and we do not think that any cotton changed hands at fuller prices. The demand is pretty much confined to good cottons and they are disappearing very rapidly. Receipts for the day, 104 bales. Shipments, 102 bales.

Our streets wore the appearance of anything but life to-day, and business was dull. A few houses were doing very fairly, but on the whole, there was much complaint. This is especially the case in corn, for which there would seem to be no demand. A few sales took place in store at $1 05 to $1 10 for white and yellow, and in one instance $1 15 was paid for choice white, but it was above the market—the stock is light. Meal is in very fair stock and held at $5 75 to $6. Oats are firm at 57 to 60c. Meats are about as they were yesterday, except in clear sides, which are firmer, and in some instances an advance of ¼ cent is asked. Hay is scarce, but the demand is altogether local. New timothy on levee sells at $27 to $30. Bran dull at $15 to $17. Potatoes in good supply at $3 to $3 50 per barrel. Onions are sold at $4 to $4 50 per barrel. Apples are dull at $1 50 to $2 per barrel. Choice butter, 20 to 22c; common, not quotable. Chickens, a fair supply—young, $4 to $4 50; old, $5 to $5 50. Coffee, rio, 25 to 28c. The crop accounts from nearly every district in the middle and upper sections of South Carolina represent the corn and cotton in fine condition. The damage from the caterpillers along the coast is so far inconsiderable.

Accounts from the interior of Louisiana continue gloomy. There will be little or no cotton on account of the worms.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, writing from Wilkinson county, Miss., says, "I have ridden around considerably, and find plenty of cotton worms everywhere; some places a hundred to the stalk. I have seen persons also from various quarters and long distances—all give the same report. My son returned, last night, from a trip of several days to the Amite regions. He says on the Amite river you may gather a pint of worms to every stalk of cotton. I have seen cotton to-day that certainly will not make one bale to twenty acres, and there is even much worse cotton in the region, which you will probably find it hard to credit, unless you could see it yourself. I write in haste, merely to post you."

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND BUSINESS.

Yesterday was a pleasant day and business on the levee was dull. The river is falling at the rate of four inches per day, and boats are rubbing at several points between here and St. Louis. At Louisville the river is quite low, barely two feet nine inches in the canal. The lower Ohio, owing to the continued decline of the water in the channel, presents many very troublesome shoals and sand-bars for boats to encounter, rendering the navigation troublesome and tedious.

The Cumberland is falling, with eighteen inches on the shoals. A heavy rain fell at Carthage a few days ago and a rise was hoped for. At St. Louis, says the Times of the 15th: "River still falling slowly. Pilots hence to points below are straining their nerves to avoid sandbars. The Missouri is falling rapidly at all points. To Omaha the rate, per hundred, was 40 cents on Tuesday; yesterday it was increased to 50 cents, subject to modification from competition. The Illinois is declining, with thirty-six inches to Naples and thirty to Peoria. Business in that stream quiet, with four regular packets running, and one independent boat, and the canal boat towing trade ended. Freight offerings for New Orleans rather dull, and fair to Memphis. Only two out of four packets will run to Vicksburg until a revival of the trade.

MISCELLANEOUS.

There are many minor incidents and facts connected with the late war which it is not supposed that even a river reporter should be familiar with, but when an illusion is made to one of the greatest achievements, and one of the most renowned works which that war inspired, even a residence in Cairo does not justify a mis-statement or ignorance of facts. We are led to these reflections by reading in yesterday's Avalanche what purported to be some facts connected with the ram Arkansas. We do not know "Mr. Turner," nor do we doubt that he was on board that vessel; yet every little girl and boy in Memphis knows that he did not build her model, nor had he anything to do with the Arkansas, further than any other workman who lent his aid under the direction of another. The Arkansas was conceived and born in the fertile brain of that well known, popular and gallant gentleman, Capt. John T. Shirley, and the model was made by that other well known gentleman and boat builder, Capt. Prime Emerson, now of St. Louis. The Arkansas was began by Capt. Shirley without any aid from the Confederate government, but assisted by a few patriotic gentlemen, one of whom, living in our sister state, contributed $10,000, and in honor of which the vessel took her name. Long after the frame work of the vessel was up, the gentleman alluded to by the Avalanche, and another named Black, both of whom were serving under Gen Polk above Memphis, applied for a detail, and at the request of Capt. Shirley were detailed to work on the Arkansas. Mr. Turner did work upon her as a ship carpenter, and afterwards went south, where he also was engaged upon a gunboat, we believe. Black was not afraid of being hurt by the federals, so he remained in the city until its capture. When Capt. Shirley left Selma with his family, the model of the Arkansas conceived by him and made by Prime Emerson was left behind, and was no doubt long ago destroyed, like the gallant vessel which struck terror to her foes—brought out this reminiscence—and which has "passed into history," to use the words of our cotemporary—but we hope "history" will be better posted than our friend of the Avalanche.

We were pleased to meet Capt. Tapp, of Helena, in our city yesterday. He came up on the Rowena and is stopping at that No. 1 hotel, the Worsham house.

On the night of the 13th, near Kingston, C. W., the propellor Magnet, bound to Montreal, collided with the steamer Bay State, from Ogdensburg. The Magnet sunk in sixty feet water five minutes after striking. The crew and passengers were brought to Kingston by the Bay State.

Selma is the name selected for Capt. Thomas Roger's new side wheel steamer being completed at Pittsburg. She is intended for a packet between New Orleans and Mobile, and will be ready to leave for her destination the first fall rise.

Capt. Postal is about to secure a dredge boat for use in procuring gravel and sand for the Nicolson pavement.

Capt. D. DeHaven was in our city yesterday. His prospects brighten daily, and we hope soon to welcome him on the roof of his great packet.

The very elegant and swift packet Rowena will leave to-day at 5 p.m. for all points on White river. She is newly furnished, and one of the most complete steamers now afloat. Mr. Walters, her steward, adopts "excelsior" as his motto in the culinary line. Capt. John B. Davis is master, and Messrs. Kidder and Harry are the secretaries.

The Celeste, Capt. Hamilton, with Thompson and Wood in the office, leaves to-day for Arkansas river at 5 p.m.

The City of Cairo leaves as usual at 5 p.m. for all landings to St. Louis, and will take passengers to Cairo in time for the train to-morrow evening. Capt. Bob Riley is master, and Mr. McCreight is clerk.

It will be seen by a card in another column that the Des Arc, Capt. John D. Elliott, will take her place in the White river trade on the 13th of next month. She will leave St. Louis on the 10th with through freight for that river. The Des Arc has been placed in fine order, and a lively time may be looked for in old White with three packets therein.

Mr. John Savage, formerly of this city, but now of Little Rock, is here on a short visit to his friends. John speaks of his new home with the rapture of a young lover.

At No. 264 Front street a new railroad and steamboat office is being fitted up. It will be occupied by Messrs. Wright & Burke, who will conduct the agency business under the above style. Capt. T. T. Wright is a well known steamboat man, and Mr. Burke is the efficient agent of the Indianapolis railroad in this city.

The Rubicon having changed her day, will not arrive before this morning. She will leave for Vicksburg at 5 p.m. Capt. Wm. Blake commands, and Alf. Grissom is clerk.

"It is suggested that the Liberty and St. Charles, both good boats, be placed in the packet line for the White and Arkansas rivers. Such a selection would most likely insure the command of the trade to those points, for which we will have as competitors both St. Louis and Memphis."

The above we take from the Louisville Journal of the 14th. We would suggest to the people of Louisville that the steamers spoken of would not "command the trade to those points." There is already a line of packets in the Memphis and White and Arkansas river trades, better suited in every respect than either the Liberty or St. Charles. Neither of those boats could go to Devall's or Pine Bluff a month hence. But we will give you an idea. Ship your freight by the Memphis and Louisville railroad to this point, and here reship on the Commercial or Rowena, the Celeste or Guidon, and thereby save the loss, the sparring and imprecations necessary in navigating the Ohio, and you will win.

"While passing down the Mississippi last week, Gen. Sherman was terribly bored by a band of minstrels who were on the steamer, and who persisted in singing all the Sherman songs that ever were written."

That's rich. Sherman is getting modest. Didn't some female minstrel want to "kiss him for his mother?"

The recent wherry race for the Nova Scotia championship was won by George Brown, of Halifax, for the fourth year in succession. His friends are going to provide the funds and send him to England to row with Kelley.

The Florence Traber has entered the Marietta and Cincinnati trade.

Capt. Throup has been offered a bonus by the Evansville merchants to place his fine steamer Mayflower as a weekly packet between Nashville and Evansville.

A survey is to be made for a railroad to connect the head waters of the Columbia with those of the Missouri.

The Prairie du Chien (Wis.) Courier reports a great deal of travel on the river, and sets forth the delights of steamboat travel on the Mississippi.

Capt. Wash Brown, a veteran boatman, died near Rome, Adams county, Ohio on last Saturday evening, of intermittent fever. He has been engaged as mate and commander on the western waters during the past thirty-five years, and was commanding the towboat Jim when taken ill.

The following from Secretary McCulloch settles the question in regard to safetyvalves, and leaves the matter open for steamboats to make their own selection:

"TREASURY DEPARTMENT, August 2, 1867.

"Sir: By the act of congress of August 30, 1852, the local inspectors are required once in every year at least, to inspect the hull, boilers, machinery, and equipments of each steamer in their respective districts, and when the inspection in detail is completed, and the inspectors approve of the vessel and her equipment throughout, they shall make and subscribe a certificate to the collector of the district, etc. The inspection and approval thus provided for includes the locked safety valves as well as all other equipments. It is at the option of the master or owner of any such steamer to apply any locked valve to his boilers that he may select, whether it be one of the five named in treasury circular No. 3, of June 1, 1867, or any other approved by the inspectors, as possessing equal merit. The powers and duties of supervising inspectors are clearly defined by the act of August 30, 1852, and you will act in conformity therewith in respect to the safety valves as well as in other requirements of the laws.

"Very respectfully, H. McCULLOCH,
"Secretary of the Treasury.

"JOHN S. DEVENNY, Esq., Supervising Inspector of steamboats, Pittsburg, Pa."

Capt. Swane and crew, of the steamer Sarah, have been arrested at San Francisco on a charge of purposely wrecking a vessel with intent to defraud the revenue department and insurance company. She sailed with a cargo of alcohol valued at $25,000, part of which has been found concealed in a cave at Drake's bay. Since the reported wreck the captain says the wreckers put it there.
